U.S. Officially Denies Charges Of Kidnapping

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States State Department today promised asylum for two Russian school teachers who have figured in current congressional spy investigations if, as expected, they want to remain in the United States.

At the same time, the department disclosed that the Russian government's claim that official agencies of the United States were involved in "kidnapping" at least one of the teachers have been denied directly to Foreign Minister Molotov by Walter Bedell Smith, U.S. Ambassador to Russia.

The case threatened to complicate the difficult Moscow situation on the Berlin crisis.

Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia, himself had stepped into the diplomatic dispute even before the most dramatic turn in events—the leap of Mrs. Stepanovna Kosenkina Thursday from a window of the Soviet Consulate in New York.

It was Wednesday night that Molotov summoned the United States Ambassador, Walter Bedell Smith, to the Kremlin.

There he demanded the immediate surrender to Russian custody of Michael Innovitch Samarin, the other teacher, and punishment of all persons who had a part in what Molotov called the "kidnapping" of Samarin's family and Mrs. Kosenkina.

MORE IRRITATION

While diplomatic informants here stress the distinction between the issues raised by the schoolteacher incidents and the problems involved in the Berlin talks, there seems to be no doubt that a new element of irritation is coming into Soviet-American relations. It may have a bad effect all along the line.

Moreover, it now seems certain that State Secretary Marshall will reject outright all the protests which the Soviet government has raised in connection with the actions of the teachers.

Red Consul Sees Victim Of Jump But Gets Nowhere

NEW YORK (CP)—A vice-consul of the Russian Consulate here today gained admittance to the closely-guarded hospital room of a Russian schoolteacher who is in "serious" condition following her jump from a third-story window of the Soviet Consulate building here Thursday.

The vice-consul, Zot I. Chepurnykh, said he visited Mrs. Oskana Stepanovna Kosenkina and said "she spoke to me in Russian saying, 'I don't want to speak to anyone. I don't want to see anyone.'"

STRONGLY GUARDED

Chepurnykh was granted permission to see the injured teacher after conferring with police. A strong police detail has guarded the room since Mrs. Kosenkina was taken to hospital Thursday after her leap.

Police had quoted her then as saying she did not wish to "see any one from the Russian consulate."

Dr. Grant P. Pennoyer, her physician, said she is in "serious but not critical condition." He estimated that she will be a patient in the hospital for 12 weeks and that it will be several months after that before she will be fully recovered.

Mrs. Kosenkina rejected the suggestion of the vice-consul that she be moved to another hospital, saying "you kept me a prisoner, you would not let me go."

Detective William Dyczko, a Russian-speaking officer who was in the hospital room during the vice-consul's visit, said Mrs.

President Truman Names Steinhardt Envoy To Canada

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Truman today named Laurence A. Steinhardt to be ambassador to Canada.

Steinhardt, a veteran career diplomat, succeeds Ray Atherton, recently named as alternate delegate to the forthcoming United Nations' General Assembly meeting in Paris.

The White House announced that the President is giving Steinhardt a recess appointment, subject to confirmation by the Senate at the next session of Congress. Steinhardt's last assignment was as ambassador to Czechoslovakia.

Appeal For Children To End At Year-end

GENEVA (AP)—The United Nations Economic and Social Council voted Thursday to wind up the U.N. appeal for children by the year-end. Collections thus far have reached $16,000,000.

Ex-F.D.R. Secretary Denies Spy Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lauchlin Currie, Canadian-born former assistant to President Roosevelt, denied today that he was connected in any way with a Communist spy ring in the United States.

The 48-year-old Currie told the House of Representatives Un-American Activities Committee that Elizabeth T. Bentley's story linking him to a spy ring was "hearsay three times removed."

Plane Party Safe; Other Wreckage Hunted In North

EDMONTON (CP)—Northwest Command headquarters said today that a Miss Oldenburg, a botanist from the University of Minnesota, and her party had been found "alive and safe."

Ernie Boffa, flying a Canadian Pacific Air Lines Norseman, discovered Miss Oldenburg, pilot of their Cessna, Bud Helmerick, and possibly Helmerick's wife, meagre reports said. Location of the party, missing since Saturday near Bathurst Inlet on the Arctic Circle, is not known. Air force officials are trying for further information.

CRASH REPORTED

Meanwhile, command headquarters said they had a report from the R.C.M.P. at Grande Prairie, Alta., saying a low-flying plane with engine trouble had crashed late Saturday near Kleskun Hill, Alta., 13 miles northeast of Grande Prairie.

Air force officials think it might be the Cessna 140 piloted by V. B. Murray of Washington, D.C., missing since Saturday on a flight between Edmonton and Grande Prairie, 242 air miles northwest.

A Mr. Jacques of Grande Prairie, a civilian pilot, took off today to search the area and R.C.A.F. para-rescue men are being sent in Edmonton, ready to take off as soon as the wreckage, if the report is correct, is sighted.

LATEST Musical Ride Back

REGINA (CP)—The return of the R.C.M.P.'s famed musical ride was disclosed today by Commissioner S. T. Wood of Ottawa, commanding officer of the force.

Men and horses will perform at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition at Portland, Ore., Oct. 2-9.

Wider Hunting Fields

NANAIMO (CP)—Permission will be sought from logging operators between Duncan and Nanaimo to allow fish and game club members access to their land during the hunting season. Announcement came from the Nanaimo Fish and Game Protective Association.

British Railwaymen Seek Wage Increase

LONDON (AP)—The National Union of Railwaymen announced today it will seek a flat 12s 6d (£2.10) weekly wage increase for Britain's 500,000 railway workers. No date was fixed for presenting the wage claim to the government, which took over ownership of all Britain's rail lines last Jan. 1.

Fire In Hospital

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fire of unknown origin early today caused $350 damage to the tuberculosis ward of the General Hospital here. It was the hospital's second blaze in 24 hours.

Flames also damaged a lumber pile in the corridor outside the ward, being used in constructing a new wing.

Flies To India To Answer Charges

GAEKWAR (MAHARAJAH) OF BARODA

PARIS (AP)—Trans-World Airline officials said today the Maharajah of Baroda had booked plane passage to India for tonight. The 42-year-old ruler, one of the world's richest men, dismissed as "absurd" Thursday night in London charges that he had misappropriated almost $10,000,000 in Baroda state funds.

Officials in Baroda said, however, they expected the Maharajah to return this week-end to answer the charges.

The Gaekwar, described one of the world's richest men, is one widely known as a racehorse owner. The $10,000,000 was said to have been spent in six weeks. The Legislature's resolution charges him with misusing state treasury funds "while famine is staring us in the face in part of the state."

Gerry McManama Winner Of Seniors' Golf Crown

Gerry McManama today ended the four-year reign of Ralph Whaley as grand champion of the Senior's Northwest Golf Association. In the 18-hole final between the two Seattle veterans at the Victoria Golf Club, McManama, who was the medalist Monday, defeated Whaley, 2 and 1.

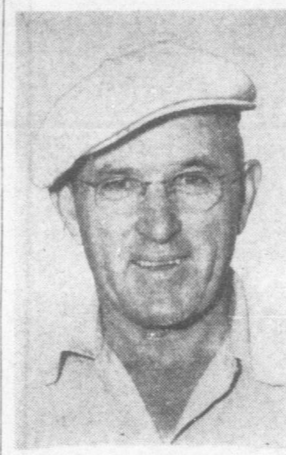

Whaley, who first won the title in 1944, was never up during the match, being 1 down at the turn. He passed up a great chance to draw even on the 15th but missed a 30-inch putt and from there in McManama took command to win on the 17th green.

Scoring a birdie four on the first hole McManama moved into an early lead. After halving the second and third holes Whaley made a great recovery out of the broom bushes on the fourth and chipped into the cup for a par four and another half at the fourth.

Sinking a 10-foot putt for a birdie three McManama took the sixth hole to go 2 up. Whaley won the seventh when his opponent conceded after pushing three balls out of bounds off the hill. Whaley squared the match on the short eighth when McManama three-putted.

REGAINS LEAD

McManama regained the lead on the 9th. After putting his tee shot into a trap he played out well and dropped a six-foot putt for his par three and won when Whaley three-putted. Whaley got into a lot of trouble on the 10th and finally picked up to go 2 down again. The next three holes were halved.

On the 14th McManama was again out of bounds and lost the hole. Whaley's missed short putt cost him the 15th. The 16th was halved. When Whaley put his second into the trees at the right of the fairway and failed to drop a four-foot putt it cost him the 17th hole and the match.

Turkeys This Year Will Cost More Here

British Columbians will probably have to pay slightly more this year for their Thanksgiving and Christmas turkeys than they did last year.

The market for B.C. turkeys now is good, W. Pope, poultry inspector reported today, and while the crop was of good quality it is about one-third less in quantity, according to rough estimates.

Mr. Pope said there was no close check kept on the size of turkey flocks produced on Vancouver Island this year but it was indicated that the difficulties faced by poultry producers earlier this year would tend to make the crop smaller than last year.

"The price will be somewhere around the same as last year," he said. "Perhaps a little higher." He indicated that turkey producers would have to pass on to the consumer increases in the costs of feed during this year.

Weather Hampering Coast Mercy Flight

Flying through a heavy downpour under an estimated ceiling of 500 feet, a Westinghouse Airways Seabee was attempting at press time today to reach Port Renfrew on the west coast of Vancouver Island, on a mercy flight.

It is reported that a logger with a broken back is to be flown here for medical attention. He is said to be a former member of the R.A.F. who suffered a similar injury during the war.

Further details of the accident were not immediately available.

Freak Mishap

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A five-year-old girl who sought to get a drink out of a faucet while taking a bath was nearly drowned when her jaws locked on the faucet. Her father freed her with difficulty and took her to hospital, where she was reported in good condition today.

3 Western Powers Not To Take Part In Danube Control

BELGRADE (Reuter)—The Danube Conference today excluded Britain, France and the United States from participation in the future Danube navigation control body.

The general committee of the 11-power conference accepted by seven votes to three Article 5 of the Soviet draft convention limiting the future Danube commission to one member each from the Soviet Union, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, the Ukraine and Czechoslovakia.

Austria will be able to join after the peace treaty with her is signed.

The committee also rejected by the same vote a United States amendment providing for immediate participation of the western powers and Austria in the commission.

This rebuff to the west today made it unlikely, observers thought, that Britain, France and the United States would sign the convention when it is completed.

Move By Ottawa Will Tend To Keep Egg Prices Up Here

Removal of restrictions on the export of Canadian coarse grains to the U.S. may have a tendency to keep egg and poultry prices at their current high levels.

This was indicated today by W. Pope, B.C. poultry inspector for Vancouver Island, following the announcement of Agriculture Minister Gardiner in Ottawa that the embargo on cattle shipments to U.S. had been removed and restrictions on exports of oats and barley to the U.S. had also been eased.

CHANGES WATCHED

Mr. Pope said that oat and barley prices in the U.S. were higher than in Canada where they dropped considerably about three weeks ago. He said that the removal of the export restrictions may mean that the prices of coarse grains in Canada will climb back to the levels of three weeks ago.

As a result of the recent reduction in oat and barley prices B.C. poultrymen had turned to these coarse grains for feed for their flocks. Previously wheat feeds, considered superior for poultry feeding purposes, had been used.

A rise in the price of these coarse grains would tend to wipe out the current advantage in feeding coarse grains instead of wheat, he said.

Dairy Act Stated Preventing Butter Substitute Experiments

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The National Dairy Council "had no specific substitute in mind" when it urged introduction of a substitute as one solution of the butter shortage, council president J. H. Duplan said today.

"There are several possible substitutes," said Mr. Duplan. He declined to say whether oleomargarine was one of them. He referred to a product being investigated by R. A. Dennis of London and known tentatively as "butterine," but noted that Mr. Dennis was barred from conducting experimental work by regulations of the Dairy Standards Act. Mr. Duplan regarded this as "unfortunate."

Similarly, he said, a Montreal firm had been investigating a product containing 70 per cent butter fat, 18 per cent moisture, three per cent salt and the remainder milk solids and curds. Like Mr. Dennis (whose suggested "butterine" has a 50 per cent fat content) it cannot do anything further on it.

The Dairy Standards Act requires 80 per cent butter fat content in any product manufactured or sold, and prohibits anyone from having "in his possession" a product containing less.

CALGARY (CP)—Livestock prices at the Calgary stock yards soared to an all-time high of $27 a 100 pounds today following news of the lifting of the ban on free export of Canadian cattle to the United States.

Livestock officials said only one top grade steer changed hands at the new high, but there was a strong market for a light run of livestock at an advance of $3 a hundredweight over Thursday's prices. Steers were selling at $25 and cows at $19 a hundredweight. All sales were made to local packinghouses.

Livestock commission men said "we will know the whole story next Monday when the market opens." Monday and Tuesday are the big trading days at the Calgary yards.

Livestock producers were jubilant at the successful conclusion of their long-drawn-out fight for restoration of the United States markets, where higher prices prevail.

Free Export Starts Monday

OTTAWA (CP)—The government today announced removal of export controls on beef and beef cattle and opened the way for a sharp upswing in retail beef prices in Canadian butcher shops.

The controls will come off Monday and producers will then be free to ship beef cattle and calves to the high-paying United States market, closed to them for the last six years as a result of war measures.

The action applies to beef cattle and calves, beef and veal, dressed and other edible beef and veal products, canned foods containing meats and meat pastes. Although it was freely predicted that beef prices would automatically advance, the reaction varied.

Packinghouse spokesmen here said there would be an immediate jump of 20 to 25 per cent in retail prices. At the same time they noted that lamb prices went up when export controls on lambs came off two weeks ago, but that they later receded.

In Montreal, the trade reaction was that prices undoubtedly would rise, but would fall off and might possibly decline from their present level after a few months. Spokesmen said the gap between Canadian and U.S. prices has been closing steadily.

At Toronto, Norman McLean, general manager of the Canada Packers plant, said he would guess lifting of the embargo would raise beef prices 20 to 25 per cent, "or in some cases as high as 30 per cent."

Thus, starting Monday, beef prices in Canada will be shaped by those paid by American housewives in their butcher shops.

This may mean, said one informant, that within a few days quality beef may become too expensive for the Canadian pocketbook.

Little Effect On U.S. Cost

WASHINGTON (CP)—Lifting of Canadian export control of beef cattle and calves will have little, if any, immediate effect on meat supplies and prices in the United States, officials here said today.

Canada has no great numbers of cattle available for immediate export, U.S. officials said in an announcement.

The announcement said it is believed Canada may be able to ship the United States about 100,000 head by the end of the year. This number compares with an estimated 32,000,000 head expected to be slaughtered for meat in the United States this year.

Most of the cattle will be of a type commonly called "feeder"—that is, cattle which usually are kept on feed for a while for further fattening.

Ford Of Canada Increases Prices

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—The Ford Motor Company of Canada Limited today announced price increases ranging from $110 to $200 on passenger car and truck models. The increase is effective from Aug. 12.

Horace H. Greenfield, director of sales and advertising, said the general increase was necessitated by rising material and labor costs.

G.M. FOLLOWS SUIT
OSHAWA, Ont. (CP)—Prices of General Motors automobiles have been increased about 8 per cent, effective Aug. 10.

An official stated today the increases were decided on July 23, but postponed until after the plant's summer holidays and until an amount of stock on hand was cleared at the old prices.

Babe Ruth Showing No Improvement

"Babe Ruth continues to run a moderately high fever and in general there is no improvement in his condition," the hospital bulletin read.

Navy Tug Rescues Rudderless Craft Off Island Coast

Towing a rudderless Vancouver fishboat, the 54-foot Colmet, the naval auxiliary vessel Heatherton is expected to reach Victoria this evening following rescue of the helplessly drifting craft off the west coast of Vancouver Island, Royal Canadian Navy officials reported today.

Heatherton left Esquimalt at three Thursday morning under the command of Skipper H. "Dusty" Rhodes for the Colmet, reported helpless without her rudder about 60 miles southwest of Esplanade Inlet. The rescue vessel finally reached the drifting craft and took her in tow late Thursday night.

The Colmet, registered in Vancouver, is owned by Frank Dale Sr. of Skidegate, and normally carries a crew of four or five. As there was no report to the contrary, naval officials believe the crew to be safe.

Open Inquiry At Port Alberni Into Claimed Arthritis Cures

PORT ALBERNI (CP)—A provincial government investigating committee began Thursday to examine patients of Lou Green of Port Alberni who had been treated by him for arthritis.

The committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. G. F. Amyot, deputy health and welfare minister, will examine more than 35 persons during its four-day investigation.

The committee at its opening session Wednesday met with members of the Alberni district arthritis committee and Mr.

Green to discuss the formalities of the inquiry.

The investigations began following Green's claim of a cure for arthritis. The committee has already met privately with Green to discuss the theories and method employed in his reported cure.

53 On Canadian Ship Reduced To Eating Lifeboat Biscuits

PERTH, Australia (Reuter)—Their lost sleep and food regained, 44 British crew members and nine passengers of the 7,132-ton Canadian steamship Papanastasiou are taking a brighter view of life after their harrowing 52-day trip from Istanbul.

The vessel is in Fremantle awaiting repairs to her engines, which failed 700 miles northwest of there.

Radio appeals had brought assistance and food from the British freighter Newbrough. By that time the mariners were reduced to eating lifeboat biscuits and composition emergency food.

A Royal Australian Air Force aircraft had earlier been prevented by high winds from transferring food.

The west Australian government motorship Kybra eventually brought the crippled ship to land after a seven-day tow.

Canada Must Hurry Or Britain To Sell Textiles Elsewhere

MANCHESTER, Eng. (CP)—The possibility Britain may sell her textiles elsewhere if Canadian buyers do not place their cotton orders quickly, was raised Thursday by Sir Raymond Smeeth, chairman of the British Cotton Board.

In an open letter to more than 4,000 British textile firms, he said British sellers and Canadian buyers should show more flexibility and perseverance in arranging orders.

Enough bookings could be made in the next four months to ensure fulfillment of Canada's textile import needs, he added.

"Time is an important factor in the success of our mutual efforts," he said. "Unless Canadian buyers are prepared to make their purchases with less delay than hitherto, there is always the danger British suppliers will be forced to dispose of their mounting stocks elsewhere."

He said the effective answer to the problem would be for more Canadian buyers to make a quick visit to Britain in September and October.

Woman Sentenced To Year In Jail For Baby Abduction

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Eleanor Fraser, alias Linda Norman, of Toronto, Thursday received a one-year term in jail for the abduction Aug. 1 of a Hamilton baby.

However, the sentence was a mere formality. Magistrate H. A. Burbridge ruled that it can be concurrent with an unexpired term of 19 months she must serve at Mercer Reformatory in Toronto where she violated her parole from a theft sentence.

The attractive 21-year-old girl pleaded guilty yesterday to the charge of abducting 11-month-old Anthony Griffin, son of Emerson Griffin, from his home where she worked as a domestic.

She said she took the child to spite the father whom she accused of failing to carry out a promise to marry her.

A written offer of marriage, gifts of money and cigarettes and the promise of a job on her discharge, are among the comforting notes awaiting Miss Fraser.

The marriage offer was received by mail yesterday from a widowed Oshawa, Ont., war veteran with a four-year-old daughter.

Putnam Thinks Beef Prices Won't Go Up As Much As Some Predict

Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam, back at the Parliament Buildings today from the Ottawa national Liberal convention, believes increases in beef prices next week, following the removal of embargoes prohibiting export of cattle to the U.S., will not be as high as most Canadians think.

While some persons have estimated the beef prices in Canada will rise by 20 to 30 per cent next week, Mr. Putnam said: "I think all those guesses are a little too high."

He pointed out that the removal of the embargo will allow the export of only 200,000 head to the U.S. Furthermore, Canadian cattle will have to compete with U.S. produced cattle after paying heavy freight charges.

The agriculture minister said he believed only the highest grades of Canadian beef would go to the U.S. with the removal of the embargo.

B.C. cattle producers, however, are going to benefit from the action of the federal government, announced in Ottawa today by Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

Removal of the restrictions on the export of oats and barley to the U.S. was a complementary action to the removal of the cattle embargo, he said.

He said that from what he saw of crops on the prairies while traveling back to B.C. from

May Ask To Meet Stalin

LONDON (Reuter) — Representatives of the three western powers in Moscow are expected to bring the long-drawn-out discussions in Moscow to a head by asking shortly for a further interview with Prime Minister Stalin, diplomatic observers here said today.

The Foreign Office here continued its news blackout on the progress of the talks, but it was learned that Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British Military Governor in Germany, will fly to London from Berlin to advise on the technical aspects of the Moscow talks as far as they concern the situation in Berlin itself.

Skeleton Discovery Recalls Mystery Of Vanished Chicagoan

CHICAGO (AP)—A skeleton found beneath the concrete basement floor of an apartment building here has been identified tentatively as that of a tool-and-die maker who disappeared more than 12 years ago.

Relatives, from evidence including dental work in the upper jaw and anatomical deductions of an anthropologist, said they are sure the skeleton was that of Adolph Sachs.

Sachs, then 36, bid his wife and two small sons goodbye after dinner Dec. 29, 1935. He said he was going to market. His wife, Catherine, and his sons, Robert, now 18, and Donald, now 14, never saw him again.

Mrs. Sachs told police she, her husband and the children three weeks before he disappeared were involved in a collision.

Her husband went to the police, she said, and was told that the other driver had important political connections and nothing could be done about damages.

PORT ALBERNI (CP)—The ice plant of the Port Alberni Fish Co. is expected to be in operation within two weeks, company officials announced today. Workmen are now installing ice-making machinery. The plant will store catches of up-coast fishermen.

Weather

Weather synopsis and official forecast issued 9 a.m. Aug. 13 by the Dominion public weather office at Vancouver valid till midnight Saturday, Aug. 14.

Another cool flow of air is pushing eastward over the province today. Showers are expected across Vancouver Island and the lower mainland today and tomorrow. Northern coastal areas will be cloudy with frequent periods of sunshine in the afternoons. Thunderstorms will develop in the interior this afternoon and again tomorrow afternoon. Temperatures there will be 5 to 10 degrees lower tomorrow than today.

Mediator Says Jews Reject Latest Attempts At Peace

ROME (AP) — Count Folke Bernadotte said today the Jews had turned down his latest attempt to bring peace to Jerusalem. "They are taking an enormous responsibility," he commented.

The United Nations Palestine mediator had asked Arabs and Jews in Jerusalem not to return any fire directed at them after 6 a.m. G.M.T. today (10 p.m. Thursday P.D.T.). He received a cable from the Jews rejecting the offer a short time before he left Rome for Red Cross conferences in Geneva and Stockholm.

The Arabs had agreed to the request. Count Bernadotte said he had instructed his Rhodes headquarters to send more military observers to Jerusalem, where a staff of 50 already is on duty.

He expressed hope the Arabs would abide by their agreement not to return fire.

IRREGULARS BLAMED

Count Bernadotte said Thursday night he thought Arab irregulars were to blame for Thursday's Latrun pumping station blast.

The act, which has held up Jerusalem's water supply, enraged the Jews and further endangered the Holy Land's shaky peace.

"I am very disappointed with this destruction," he said. "I repeat once more that if I had received United Nations guards—I only asked for 40, who would have guarded the place day and night—this would not have happened."

The station had been held by the Arabs, but was placed in a "no-man's land" Wednesday by agreement between the Arab Legion and the U.N. Control was taken over by U.N. personnel.

A U.N. spokesman at Haifa said the blast had been reported to the Security Council at Lake Success as a true violation by the Arabs.

NOISY NIGHT

Jerusalem had another noisy night when fierce fighting continued for several hours on Zion Hill, outside the southern wall of the old city, and Dier Abu Bor, to the west across the valley.

An official Israeli communiqué said the Arab Legion launched a concentrated attack with mortars and shells.

Jewish forces repulsed the attack, inflicting casualties on the Arabs. One Jewish soldier was killed and two seriously injured.

2 U.S. Planes On Berlin Air Lift Crash; Crews Safe

BERLIN (AP)—Two United States four-engine "flying coalman" planes spanning the Soviet blockade of Berlin crashed while landing during a heavy rainstorm at Tempelhof Airfield today.

One smashed through a fence and burned, but the crew of three escaped through an emergency hatch without serious injuries.

The other plane, coming down through clouds a few minutes later, landed on a half-completed runway and was heavily damaged. The crew was not hurt.

One plane careened through a fence a few yards short of one of Berlin's busiest streets. One wing and part of the fuselage and cargo burned before firemen put out the blaze. Bystanders who usually crowd the end of the field where the plane crashed narrowly escaped injury.

A few minutes later a third American C-54 reported by radio that it was near Berlin with two engines out of order. Tempelhof lost contact with the crippled plane, but the R.A.F. at Gatow Airfield guided it to a safe landing there.

The rain on this Friday the 13th was the longest and heaviest downpour here in months. Tempelhof ground control approach officers had a tough time guiding the coal and fuel transports down safely. By noon 13 planes had been brought in by G.A.C. instruments.

This morning's crashes brought to five the number of crashes since the air lift to Berlin was started. Five Americans have been killed in these accidents. There have been no fatalities in the R.A.F.

IN RETROSPECT

EVEN THOSE NEWSPAPERS IN Canada which, in season and out of season, have found fault with almost everything the King government has done throughout the years, seem to agree on the fact that the convention of the National Liberal Party which finished its deliberations last Saturday lived up to the best democratic tradition. Naturally the Liberal Press has described the meeting as a new demonstration of "democracy at work." And why not? In these days, when the liberty of the subject is being challenged by various forms of totalitarianism, surely none will find much about which to complain when the people of any nation agree to get together to analyze their own domestic problems, regardless of the particular political label they choose to wear.

After all, it is good to reflect that Canadians still refuse to be weaned away from the basic concept of democratic procedure, and so long as this state of mind shall be allowed to persist, so long will freedom of thought and action in this Dominion prevail. Nor would it seem to be too much to say that the organizers of the Ottawa gathering have every reason to be satisfied with the product of their labors. It was no small job to prepare the "stage" for a meeting destined to witness the end of a vital epoch in Canadian political progress. None will seriously argue, of course, that because Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, O.M., has chosen to translate himself from the limelight to the realm of comparative leisure to which he is entitled, that the future direction of Canadian national affairs from Ottawa is in any danger. Our reference to Mr. St. Laurent the other day was intended to reflect this newspaper's views in this respect. But it should be set down again that the administration over which the Prime Minister has presided for so long has, to all intents and purposes, given this senior Dominion of the British Commonwealth of Nations excellent service.

In retrospect, however, last week's huge convulse of the adherents to Liberal principles will have impressed most Canadians with the fact that every delegate in attendance enjoyed the full right to express his or her views on the numerous matters presented for consideration. And the fact that certain of these elements present married a good deal of logic to not a little noise on the floor will have demonstrated to the outside world that this highly-favored land does not intend to surrender any of its fundamental privileges for which men and women in British countries have suffered and died.

It should, nevertheless, be understood that while a modernized platform of the National Liberal Party sounds well and reads well, neither its tone nor content will be worth more than the paper upon which it is set forth unless it shall be promptly translated into practice. We are not particularly impressed by the fact that at one time nearly 3,000 resolutions were the subject of either intelligent or perfunctory consideration by the special convention agency confronted with the difficult job of analysis. But it is well to record that some of this collection of ideas enjoyed the meticulous attention of a committee of more than 100 members. Doubtless many will argue that no committee of such a cumbersome size could do justice to its task; yet it will go down on the record of the National Liberal Party's achievements that the men and women who journeyed to Ottawa and served on this branch of the convention's machinery worked diligently into the small hours of several mornings.

This recital of some of the details of the convention which ended last Saturday may be considered as part of the dust swept from the floors of an historic gathering. At the same time, it should be noted by the Canadian people that in this free land of the Western Hemisphere the representatives of a political party can meet together, criticize or agree with their government, and still return to their respective homes with the knowledge that they at least have contributed a substantial drop of that useful oil which makes the wheels of democracy spin in the right direction.

CLOSING IN

RECENT SUCCESSES BY THE GREEK Army in its campaign against the rebel forces of Communist leader Markos Vafiades indicate that the guerrilla fortunes are waning and the end of the long struggle may soon be in sight. A final assault is now being prepared on the last major rebel supply route from Albania, and if successful it will deliver a serious blow to the Communist hopes. Vafiades has been losing his hilltop strongholds one by one, and although he can still command sizeable forces and strong positions, his movement has fallen far below the peak it reached when he defiantly proclaimed that he had formed a provisional Greek government in the northern hills and called for international recognition.

Vafiades, true to the Kremlin party line, was among those who were quick to turn from Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia when the latter came under Moscow's displeasure. This must have been a difficult decision for the Greek guerrilla chieftain to make, since he had received moral, if not material, support from the neighboring state. The current Greek government offensive may cut him off from Albania, a country whose close proximity has been very helpful to the hard-pressed rebel fighters on more than one occasion. Already rumors are afloat that the guerrilla general may seek a truce while he still retains sufficient power to establish a basis for negotiation.

Vafiades' activities in northern Greece—raiding villages and towns, kidnapping recruits, shooting civilians who would not support him—have been a serious drain on the Greek state. His elimination would clear the way for Greece to turn to more constructive pursuits, and, with American economic help, to implement those democratic projects which still await attention.

CHOICE OF MENU

ALL WHO HAVE WATCHED DEVELOP- ments in the blockade of Berlin by which Russia hopes to drive the western Allies from the former Reich capital, will have been struck by the widespread support which the inhabitants of the western sectors have given to British, French and American policy. The thousands of German residents of that part of the city not controlled by Russia who have turned out to democratic rallies have given proof that there is little liking among them for the Communist way of life. And it is not unreasonable to surmise that similarly large numbers of Germans in the Russian zone, although denied the right to protest, are equally at variance with the Communists' plans.

Three weeks ago the Soviets offered food to the western sectors of Berlin, on condition that it should be distributed under Russian control. It was an obvious bid to undermine the authority of Britain, France and the United States in their areas, and this was pointed out to the Germans. To date, less than one per cent of the 2,000,000 residents in the western sectors have accepted the offer. They prefer the western rations, precariously brought in by air, but free of eastern political ties which could strangle the consumer.

WILL THEY FOOT THE BILL?

WE HAVE OBSERVED IN THESE columns many times that when the people of Canada want their governments to spend money, it is up to them to tell their governments that they are willing to foot the bill. This is not a matter of politics. It is purely a question of economics. Canadians generally were delighted when Premier Johnson persuaded the National Liberal Convention last week to endorse his implied suggestion that the Trans-Canada Highway be lifted out of the realm of academic discussion and dropped into the realm of realities.

Canada should have a properly surfaced road from coast to coast that would enable those who want to see the scenery from an automobile to travel in relative comfort. But as soon as the Tory press notes that Resources Minister MacKinnon suggests that this project cannot possibly materialize for some time—Mr. Howe's indication of a Dominion-Provincial conference to discuss the matter in the near future notwithstanding—it turns new partisan guns on the administration at Ottawa. Yet the same anti-King government apostles burn the midnight oil in their efforts to devise new schemes for spending money—by way of increasing pensions, reducing income taxes, and the like. Well, where is the money to come from, if not from the pockets of our own people?

ALL-INCLUSIVE AGE

A NEWS ITEM FROM AUSTRALIA relates that a housewife of Mildura, Victoria, has succeeded in putting 117 separate articles into an ordinary match box. We do not know quite what this proves, but if it seemed a good idea to the lady in question, it certainly is a harmless pastime. And we suggest that she may have trained for the event by daily decreasing the size of her handbag and its contents until it approximated the volume of the match container.

In a broader aspect, the Australian women's predilection for combining a large number of objects into one receptacle may have been merely a concrete manifestation of the modern urge to make everything multi-inclusive, multi-embracing, multi-containing. Each object, each tool, each service, these days, much accomplish more jobs than it used to. The dentifrice must not merely clean teeth—it must polish them, prevent decay and sweeten the breath. The carpet sweeper that became famous through the advertising claim that "it beats as it sweeps as it cleans," was a case in point, a forerunner of the handy pocket gadget that cleans nails, opens bottles, combs the hair, points to the magnetic north and serves as a key ring.

It is interesting, although not particularly profitable, to speculate that some day a super-super-super-gadget may be evolved that will solve all our living problems—some awesome electronic contrivance, reduced to portable size, that will cater to all our needs of shelter, warmth, food and amusement, making each of us a self-contained Robinson Crusoe in the midst of our fellowmen. From such a fate may we be spared. Meanwhile, we shall watch with interest for further details of the Australian lady's progress, wondering idly if she is married to the man who writes messages on the head of a pin.

London View

From The Times, London, of Aug. 9.

MR. LOUIS ST. LAURENT has been elected to lead the Liberal Party of Canada in succession to Mr. Mackenzie King. Although it was only in 1941 that he gave up a large practice at the Bar to enter federal politics, his distinguished tenure of the Ministry of External Affairs has established him as by far the outstanding member of the party, after his veteran predecessor in the leadership; and the presentation of candidates against him was no denial of his personal pre-eminence, but rather the assertion that on some issues of policy there is more than one school of thought within the party. Now that he has been elected Mr. St. Laurent can count on the loyal support of majority and minority alike.

MR. KING HAS postponed his own retirement from the office of Prime Minister—which he has held for twenty-one years—until the question of the party leadership was settled. The choice of a successor in office rests, of course, with the Governor-General, who may or may not ask for the advice of the retiring Prime Minister; but now that Mr. St. Laurent's already conspicuous claims have been reinforced by a resounding vote of confidence from the Liberal Party, it is not likely that Lord Alexander will look beyond him. If Mr. St. Laurent does in due course accede to the office of Prime Minister, it is worthy of remark that he will have approached it by a route that has not been customary in most of the British Commonwealth.

IN PARTY GOVERNMENT under modern conditions, it is a political though not a constitutional necessity that a Prime Minister should be fortified by the leadership of his own party—even though that may be, as with Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, only the minority group in a coalition. When a new party comes to office by defeating the Government in power, the King or his Governor-General sends for the accredited leader under whom it has won the electoral or parliamentary battle. But when a government in office and undefeated loses its head by death or resignation, the party it represents is left leaderless at the same time. In this country it is then the practice for the King to make his own choice among the survivors and ask one of the principal ministers to form a new government.

SOMETIMES, of course, the successor acceptable to parliamentary opinion has been already informally indicated, as when Mr. Asquith succeeded to Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman in 1908, or Mr. Chamberlain to Mr. Baldwin in 1937. On other occasions, however, the Sovereign has been called on to exercise substantial discretion, as when Queen Victoria preferred Lord Rosebery to Sir William Harcourt in 1894 or King George V Mr. Baldwin to Lord Curzon in 1922. No doubt in 1940 the summons of Mr. Churchill rather than Lord Halifax was imperatively demanded by public opinion, but it was by the King, not a party meeting that this opinion was formulated. Once a new Prime Minister has formed a Government, his Sovereign's confidence, supported by that of the colleagues who have agreed to serve under him, easily secures his election to the leadership of his party.

FOR a parallel to what is now being done in Canada it is necessary to look not to the United Kingdom but to Australia. On the death of Mr. Curtin in 1945 the Duke of Gloucester as Governor-General asked Mr. Forde, the Deputy Prime Minister, to carry on an interim administration pending the meeting of the Labor Party. The party, when it met, elected Mr. Chifley as its leader. Mr. Forde then resigned, after one week in office, and the Duke gave Mr. Chifley his commission to form a Government. It is clear that in both the Australian and the Canadian cases a precedent is hardened by the procedure adopted.

CANADA'S associates in the British Commonwealth and beyond may view with unmixed gratification the prospect of Mr. St. Laurent's accession to the highest office. In a succession of remarkable speeches, and by his consistent policy at the Ministry of External Affairs, he has identified his country with the strategy of North Atlantic union, conceived as a plan of regional security within the frame of the United Nations. He seeks equally close relations with the United Kingdom and western Europe, on the one hand, and with the United States, on the other, accepting for Canada her geographical role as a bridge between the two, with a special party to play in the front line of any clash in this rocket age across Arctic regions. He can count on being accepted as the exponent of what the neighboring republic calls a bi-partisan foreign policy.

Quoting

I don't know what the future holds for me as far as politics are concerned.—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Peace depends upon being firm on essentials, conciliatory on non-essentials and eternally competent in every detail.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Lately I have taken to farming in a modest way. . . I think that if I had heard about it when I was young I probably should never have gone into politics.—Winston Churchill.

Still Being Shadowed

As Our Readers See It

AN EXPLANATION

Re the meeting of the Old Age Pensioners held on Wednesday at the Canadian Legion Hall, Blanshard Street, I wish to reply to a statement made by one present, who suggested that the O.A.P.O., Branch No. 5, was being "run by Vancouver."

To correct this misunderstanding I wish to state that Branch No. 5 is a democratic organization with its executive elected from its own membership, one of whom is a member of the Provincial Council of Old Age Pensioners' Organizations, headquarters of all branches. This was incorporated in 1937. We pay a ratio of our dues to the council for the purpose of expansion of the organization, and this is the only way in which we are ruled by the council.

GRACE A. HAGGART,
Secretary,
Old Age Pensioners' Organization, Branch No. 5.

HOSPITAL INSURANCE

With reference to Mr. Barraclough's strictures on the provincial government's hospitalization benefits in your issue of Aug. 11, three points should be borne in mind: (1) that the government is not undertaking hospital insurance for purposes of profit, as is the case with insurance companies, but as a timely social service to citizens; (2) that every person who contributes to the plan by paying a premium also supplements the latter directly or indirectly through taxation; and (3) that the government plan will not deprive a person of the benefits because he or she, from the standpoint of the insurance companies—with their actual facts, setting up of true reserves, and profits to consider—is not considered insurable.

The writer, after much solicitation, took out a hospitalization policy with one of the largest companies in North America. A few days less than six months after the issue of the policy he was taken to hospital with a disability of which he had no idea, when he "signed on the dotted line." For that disability it was necessary to be insured for six months before becoming eligible for benefits. The company, at the first opportunity, then relused to renew the policy on the ground that the insured could not be accepted as a risk. The foregoing may serve to show that at least one company's services can be quite "costly after all."

The full benefits of the government plan actually extend much further than a payment towards one's hospitalization, for they include release from financial worries should one have to go to hospital, and also any doubts as to whether or not the insuring agency is going to admit the claim. The plan is a great step forward in the protection of the citizens of this province, and it will be an immense boon, as well as an aid to personal stability.

HAROLD H. SMITH,
41 South Turner Street.

UNCONVENTIONAL

In one of your columns (Aug. 4) you report the purpose of the Liberal convention to be three-fold, discussion of party organization, the whipping into shape of a new party platform, and selection of a new leader. It is also pointed out that this is the third national convention in the party's history.

If there had been no need to select a new leader there should have been no national convention. Mr. Mackenzie King would have ignored the need of a better party organization, and would have tinkered up the creaking platform to suit himself and the interests which the Liberal government finds it expedient to serve.

His indifference to the wishes even of party members, as well as of the bulk of the electorate, is apparent in the way in which he ignored the protests of provincial governments to the freight rate increase, and in the deaf ear he turned to the appeals of harassed housewives for price controls. His belief seems to be in the order-in-council form of government for the people; and doubtless the party is handled in similar fashion.

It is hard to realize that a party, which for so many years has been seen-sawing with its Conservative counterpart, in and out of office, should in its long history have deemed it necessary only three times to consult its membership on adapting its program to the changing times, and that the Liberal membership is still willing to believe that upon them should be visited not only the sins of their forefathers, but also their political ineptitudes.

Is it not a bit inconsistent on the part of the Liberal leaders to accuse the C.C.F. executive of dictatorship and bureaucracy when the members of that organization meet annually to decide party policy in open council. Not even the help of the Communist Party, so freely given, and thankfully accepted in the past, could galvanize the Liberal into a progressive party.

EDITH S. SMITH,
78 Logan Avenue.

A BUTTER NOTE

As a form of personal insurance against the threatened butter shortage and rising prices for indifferent quality, may I recount for your readers my experience of the result of verifying from readily available civic and provincial records the quality of milk offered to the local consumer, and acting accordingly.

Buying, in consequence, preferred raw Jersey milk of high butterfat content and confirmed cleanliness, and following the producer's instructions as to its household care: This consumer, having "set" the cream for a couple of days, skims off the top of the cream and is able with an ordinary rotary egg beater to whip it by hand into unadulterated butter in quantities, small at a time, sufficient to obviate the purchase of butter and shortenings for table and kitchen use. The remaining, thinner cream can be whipped to provide an abundance of ice creams and garnishings; while the residue provides a plenitude of "coffee" cream without obviously depleting the richness of the skimmed milk used as a beverage. And the household still has a surplus of whipping cream in quantities of a pint or so a week to give to friends.

The foregoing is based on the daily purchase, for a household of two, of three quarts of such milk at a price exceeding the price of standard quality by, I believe, one cent.

Summer Course

UNIVERSITY students from 12 nations are now attending summer school in the British zone of Germany. This has been organized jointly by the education branch of the Control Commission and the Canadian Committee of the International Student Service. The six-week course is being held at Schloss Ploen in Schleswig-Holstein.

Students from Germany, the United Kingdom, the U.S.A., Canada, New Zealand and European countries are living and studying together and sharing their rations. During the course they will hear lectures on philosophy, political science and literature delivered by eminent professors from universities in Canada and Europe. The dean of studies is a professor from Toronto University.

EARNED REST

Halifax Herald
With a privileged few, holiday-making has run to excess, but for the great majority whose lives are spent in the confines of office, store, factory, and plant, holidays are a necessity and a blessing. They are the more enjoyable because they are infrequent. It is work that makes rest pleasurable. No holiday is so delightful as that which a healthy conscience declares to have been earned with honest labor. Indeed, someone has said: "Unearned rest is an immoral increment."

Hard Winter

THE ANTARCTIC WINTER has become so bleak that even the penguins have deserted the inhospitable ice-bound shores of Heard Island more than 2,000 miles south-west of Perth. This was revealed in a message from the Australian scientific party manning the weather station on the island.

Despite the severity of the weather the scientists have completed the mapping and geological survey of the Cape Lawrence area. In one period of 24 hours, the barometer fell 1.2 inches and rose one inch in the following 12 hours.

These fluctuations in barometric pressure are always accompanied by raging blizzards and sub-zero temperatures and the main camp is almost buried in snow.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press News Analyst

THE FATE of Italy's north African colonial empire—Libya, Eritrea and Italian Somaliland—again is being debated by the big-four deputy foreign ministers in London, with the limelight still centred on Libya. Libya was the pride of Mussolini. Il Duce laid out a great agricultural development in the province of Cirenaica and settled upon it thousands of Italian colonists.

However, Libya's chief importance doesn't lie in her rich acres. It has great military value as a Mediterranean base.

The country holding Libya would be in a powerful position. If it also controlled the big island of Crete to the north, it could dominate the lifeline through the Mediterranean to the Suez Canal, for the Libyan port of Tobruk and Crete form a saddle over the ship route.

HOT CONTENTION

Small wonder that the disposition of Libya is a bone of hot contention between Russia and the Western Powers.

Not so long ago Russia was asking for a Mediterranean base. Now, however, she has proclaimed herself in favor of returning all the colonies to Italy for rule under United Nations' trusteeship, pending a granting of independence.

Most of the western allies, however, want to see Libya split up into its component provinces of Cirenaica, Tripolitania and the Fezzan. Cirenaica, and perhaps Tripolitania, would come under British protection, either as a U.N. trusteeship or as independent states bound to Britain by military treaty. Fezzan would go to France, who has been administering it since the war.

Russia's idea of turning the colonies over to Italy is a shrewd one from two important viewpoints:

STILL HOPES

(1) Moscow still hopes to gain control of Italy through the latter's big and militant Communist party, and such an eventually would bring Libya into the Red fold; (2) the very fact that the Soviet Union advocates returning the colonies to Italy is calculated to strengthen the hand of the Italian Communists in their fight for power.

The question of independence looms large with the native Libyans. Their paramount leader is the Grand Senussi. I interviewed him in Cairo in 1943, and found him to be a striking personality of much culture. I could see that after the war some sort of protectorate likely would be proposed for Libya, and I asked him if he expected this.

"We feel that we should have our freedom first," he replied. "The rest easily can be arranged. We certainly shall need guidance in our new state, and we shall need help in developing it."

OFFICIAL OUTRAGE

N.E.A. Service
The Russian Communist Party's official "outrage" at the shooting of Palmiro Togliatti seems awkward as well as impulsive. Togliatti is, after all, an Italian citizen. The Italian Communist Party, which he leads, is autonomous and takes no orders from Moscow—to hear Moscow tell it. The whole thing might be considered an internal affair that called for no official statement from the Soviet ruling clique.

The tipoff on the true state of affairs surprises nobody, of course.

CEILING ZERO

Ottawa Citizen
After some 15 years of government by commission, during which he became unaccustomed to the blandishments of political parties, the Newfoundlander must suddenly feel that the fog which now and again envelops his island is a phenomenon not entirely confined to nature. With three national political parties suing for his favor the islander, beset from all sides, will probably see everything political through misted eyes.

REPARTEE

W. Dierckx in BBC London Letter
I remember overhearing a conversation between two workers from rival shipyards on the Tyne. On the stocks at one of these shipyards was a mighty and magnificent passenger ship, while the other yard was building four small war vessels.

"Wot cheer Jack," hailed the worker at the large passenger boat yard, cheerfully. "When are ye goin' to get them four rowing boats finished?" The other replied with a snort of disgust. "We're frightened to let them pass that damned great ugly hulk ye're building. The sight of yon thing would make all four warships sink."

Canadian Cost-Of-Living Index Thought Not Yet At Postwar Peak

By Canadian Press
The fact that the cost-of-living index reached an all-time high on July 2 of 156.9 and that the First World War postwar peak was made in July, 1920, has invited some comparison of the two periods.

The top of 28 years ago heralded the leveling off of the post-war boom of that day.

The cost-of-living index dropped in two years to around 120 in 1922, remained around there until late 1930, dropped further to reach 93 in 1933 and then started to pick up again to the average level of 100 for 1935-39.

FOOD AT TOP

A further comparison with the previous high levels shows that of the component parts of the index, food is almost at an all-time high, rents are up slightly, fuel is under its highest points, and clothing is well under—175.4 as compared with 221.2 in 1920. Miscellaneous items are up.

Wages are also up, but they have to take care of a generally higher standard of living, the need for a wider range of goods and higher taxes.

There are some specific differences between the two postwar periods. The first was followed by a recession in about two years, while that particular type of recession has so far been skipped in this one under intense world need for goods. The first also lacked the continuing stimulus of such measures as the European Recovery Program and armament measures. Also of importance, the world was heading into an era of trade restrictions, a path which it is trying to avoid this time.

The cost of living presumably must reach its limit sometime, but it doesn't seem to be choosing the anniversary month of July to do it.

MARKETS THURSDAY

New York managed a minor advance Thursday, after a seesaw and dull trading, its first of the week. Toronto industrials also gained about a half-point in the index. All Montreal averages were down.

Grains were firmer in Chicago and Winnipeg. New York cotton was 30 cents a bale to 80 cents lower.

Rangers Picnic

An archery balloon shoot, races, softball and novelty events, are on the agenda for those who attend the second annual picnic of the South Vancouver Island Rangers at the Rangers' Luxton headquarters site Aug. 22, starting at 10.30.

A fine of $35 and a one-month license suspension was imposed against Gordon L. Hutchinson by A. I. Thomas, J.P., when he was found guilty on a dangerous driving charge Thursday in Saanich police court. Charge arose out of an accident on Aug. 5.

All But 1 Passenger In Airline Wreck Proceed To Scotland

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—All but one of the 11 passengers who escaped unhurt Thursday when a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane from Montreal caught fire as it touched the ground here, continued their journey Thursday night to Prestwick in a substitute airliner.

The one exception was David Thompson of Montreal and Toronto, whose passport and other papers were lost in the fire.

Today, the fire-gutted fuselage from which six crew members also made good their escape, was the subject of an investigation by transport department officials.

Pilot Doug Holland of Montreal brought his machine in for a normal landing at nearby Reserve Airport just before 4 a.m.

Everything was in order; there was no hint of danger. Stewardess Rita Meyer of Kitchener, Ont., had given the "fasten your straps" instruction to the passengers, who were looking forward to a cup of coffee in the airport's lounges.

Suddenly, just short of the runway, there was a terrific bump as the starboard wheel encountered an unseen object.

Split seconds later the machine was on the ground and pilot Holland was fighting desperately to keep a straight course and prevent a crash.

Flames belched from the starboard wing and licked along the fuselage, fed by a spout of gasoline from where a tank had been punctured by the damaged undercarriage.

When the plane came to a halt about a mile down the runway Steward-purser Jack Triggs of Montreal opened the aircraft door and leaped the 15 feet to the ground. There he broke the fall of the passengers as they were bundled out into the darkness by Miss Meyer, co-pilot Bob Penrose, navigation officer Gil Evans and radio officer Bob Wright.

Airline officials said the accident was caused by the aircraft striking a mound of earth, where men had been working during the past week on airfield installations, about 20 feet off the edge of the runway.

Former Victoria Flier Gets Command
OTTAWA (CP)—Wing Cmdr. D. T. French of Victoria and Ottawa has been appointed commanding officer of the R.C.A.F. station at Aylmer, Ont., it was announced here.

He has been executive assistant to Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, chief of the air staff.

Big Job To Replace Canadian Army Rifles

OTTAWA (CP)—Adoption of the U.S. army service rifle to replace the British standard Lee-Enfield would mean replacement of some 500,000 rifles in Canada, the Defence Department said Thursday night. Cartridges also would have to be replaced.

The department was commenting on a London magazine report that the Western Union military committee had decided to replace the rifles now in use in the west, including Britain's Lee-Enfield, with the U.S. army service rifle.

It was reported the decision was part of a plan for co-ordinating the military activities of Britain, France and the United States.

The department said the government had received no information as to whether the move actually would be taken.

Calgary Traffic Tied Up By Rain

CALGARY (CP)—Traffic in downtown Calgary was disrupted for almost three hours Thursday night following a late afternoon downpour that choked subways.

More than half an inch of rain fell in a two-hour period. A light fall of hail accompanied the rain. Streetcars, trolley buses and private automobiles were stalled by the rain. Twenty-one trams and trolley coaches were stalled at one subway for more than an hour.

One streetcar was derailed on Eighth Avenue West and crashed into an automobile. No one was injured.

Some scholars have estimated that about 2,700 languages are spoken in the world today.

TODAY!*Education Changes
Lecture Subject Of
Guidance DirectorThree important changes in education today as compared to 25 years ago were cited by Harold Johns, director of Educational and Vocational Guidance for B.C., in an address to the Rotary Club Thursday.Speaking on "Investment in Youth," Mr. Johns, who is also a director of the provincial Summer School of Education, stated that foremost in the changes was a recognition of individual differences and needs of children.
"This has come about in spite of the increased size and complexity of modern schools," he said.RIGHT OF ALL"Education has become the right of all—and therefore schools must offer a variety of training courses, both academic and technical, in order to meet the aspirations of all," he remarked in bringing out the second improvement.The third major change in teaching today, according to the speaker, is that schools now prepare children for effective living rather than merely giving them knowledge which they may or may not use."Attitudes are now considered as important as knowledge," said Mr. Johns in his pleasing style of presentation, "students must be observed in class and in interviews by counsellors in order that the career for which they are training fits in with their attitudes as well as ability."Rotarians heard how methods similar to those of screening, selection and placement used by personnel men in industry are used in schools.Mr. Johns concluded his interesting talk by pointing out certain differences between the two methods, the major one being that the ultimate decision of placement and of putting advice into effect in education lies with the student, who cannot be told what to do like an employer instructing an employee.U.S. Said Canada's Biggest ProblemSEATTLE (AP)—A Canadian professor told the first western regional meeting of the American Society of International Law
Thursday night the United States is Canada's biggest problem.The speaker, Dr. Maxwell Cohen, associate professor of law at McGill University in Montreal, addressed lawyers, educators and students.He said Canadians are worried lest they should become bound politically to the United States now that they have shaken off most of their legal ties to Great Britain."Canada is worried as to how it can remain a friendly North American people and yet live on the margin of a very great power," said Dr. Cohen.He said political union with the United States is impractical because it would bring too many complex problems.Bodies Of 10 More

Desert where the temperature has reached more than 150 degrees Fahrenheit in the sun. The bodies of three travelers were found in the area Monday.Mayors Of Capitals MeetMayor Percy George shakes hands with Mayor Ernest Mallory of Olympia.The chief magistrates of two neighboring capital cities compared notes here Thursday.Mayor Ernest Mallory of Olympia, Washington, called on Mayor
Percy George at the City Hall
"just to say hello and to add my compliments to the many you must receive on the beauty and attractiveness of your city."The two mayors chatted informally about their respective cities, and Mayor Mallory thought Victoria's new transportation service improved the look of the city a great deal."But I am surprised that with all the hydro development possibilities here you've got gasoline buses," he commented.Mayor George explained that originally it was hoped the new service would have trolley buses, but costs did not permit. Cost of a single trolley bus was some-where in the vicinity of $24,000 whereas the gas buses were purchased for approximately $11,000 each.30TH ANNUAL VISITMayor Mallory is on his annual visit to Victoria with his family.
They came aboard the Mallory cruiser Pamanus II, a sleek 48-foot craft which is moored in the Inner Harbor."The name of the boat? That's Pa, Ma and us," Mayor Mallory explained.The Olympia mayor has visited Victoria every year for the past 30 years. "There's nothing like it. We certainly enjoy coming here," he said.Accompanying Mayor Mallory on his visit here are his attractive wife, son Kenny, who is entering Cornell University this fall;

Fight For Better
Vets' AllowanceA. E. Moore, Dominion chairman of the Canadian Legion, told a meeting of local veterans
Thursday night in the Britannia Branch auditorium the legion would continue to press for higher war veterans allowances.Mr. Moore was critical of the apathy of Victoria ex-servicemen in regard to veterans' problems.
The attendance numbered less than 35 persons.He termed the recent federal government action of setting the allowances at $40 a month for single persons and $60 for married persons as insufficient."We will not stop our fight until the allowances have been raised to $50 for single and $85 for married as asked at the Saskatchewan convention," the speaker said.He explained that the War Veterans' Allowance Act was passed to take care of veterans who were unable to prove they suffered because of military service. A total of 600 had been placed on the allowance list, the speaker added.Mr. Moore said the legion would continue to seek the same rights as Canadian veterans for Imperial veterans with service records in the First World War who have lived in Canada for 20 years or more.The average Mohammedan

Victorian Present At Guide Meeting

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (CP)—Mrs. John Corbett of Montreal presided today at the opening of the 12th conference of the World

Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts.

Mrs. E. Francis Morkill of Victoria and Miss M. Winnifred Kydd of Montreal are among Canadian committee members at the conference, while Canadian delegates are Mrs. S. H. Candier of Edmonton and Mrs. Rankine Nesbitt of Toronto.

The conference, which will continue until Aug. 22, was preceded by a week-long meeting of the world committee. Canadian Girl Guides, among the 50 conducting a model primitive camp here, in conjunction with the conference, include Wilma Palmer, 15, and Mary Betton, 17, both of Edmonton, and Phoebe Warren, 17, Birtle, Man.

Giuseppe Garibaldi, who died in 1882, was great as a poet, Italian patriot and guerrilla leader. His zeal helped make Italy a nation.

Vancouver Ceremony Unites Miss Fitzsimmons, R. Moore

Grandview United Church in Vancouver was the scene of the marriage of Barbara Kathleen Fitzsimmons and Robert Stewart Moore, Aug. 7, at 8.30.

Following the nuptial rites, conducted by Rev. Robert Moses, friends and relatives attended a reception at Blue Danube Hall.

A profusion of gladioli, sweet peas and sweetheart roses, decorating the church, and reception hall, created the setting for the bride, daughter of P. A. Fitzsimmons, 3608 Douglas Street, and Mrs. A. D. Whillans, Toronto.

A dainty lace collar, gathered with pearl clips, and sheer net yoke distinguished the bridal gown of white slipper-satin. The full-hooped skirt was caught up at the hemline, to reveal a lace ruffled underskirt, and misting overall were clouds of embroidered net crowned with a beaded pearl headpiece. Gardenias and white stephanotis fashioned the bridal bouquet.

The bride was attended by her sisters, Miss Erna Louise Fitzsimmons, honor maid, and Miss Josephine Fitzsimmons, who with Miss Patsy Lou Moore, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid.

Pale green satin brocade created the gown of the honor maid, who wore lace mitts to match and carried a loose colonial bouquet of pink carnations and pale yellow gladioli.

Identical gowns in mauve and in yellow satin brocade with full net skirts were worn by bridesmaids. Their headpiece of gladioli tips matched the mauve and yellow carnations and gladioli in their loose colonial bouquets.

Robert Stewart Melville was his cousin's best man. Guests were seated by Dennis Love, New Westminster, and Stanley Colbert, Vancouver.

More than 150 guests were received by the newlyweds, parents of the bride, and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Moore, Vancouver. Ralph Bourque gave the toast.

Later Mr. Moore and his bride left on a honeymoon motor trip through the interior of British Columbia, and will make their home in Vancouver, on return.

Mrs. Moore was wearing a lemon yellow gabardine suit with kelly green accessories, and a crownless hat with a cluster of flowers trimming the wide brim.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. H. Hamlet, 1007 Amphion Street, are vacationing at Jasper Park Lodge.

Mr. W. Kenneth Wardroper, whose marriage to Miss Nan Wilson will take place Aug. 17, arrived from Ottawa Thursday, and is the guest of Mrs. Margaret Christie, Linden Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Wilde with their small daughter Denise, came from Vancouver yesterday to spend the next two weeks with Mrs. Wilde's parents, His Hon. Judge H. H. Shandley and Mrs. Shandley, Beach Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. David Johnston with their two children, Hugh and Barbara, have returned home from their vacation spent at Cannin Lake and the Bar T Ranch, near Savona. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. M. Musgrave of Seattle.

M. A. Anfosy, Consul for France at Vancouver, with Mme. Anfosy, were hosts at a small dinner party following the Government House garden party Wednesday afternoon. Their guests were M. and Mme. H. D. Parizeau, Mme. Renee Archibald, Mme. Sanderson-Mogin and Mme. Yvonne Graeff.

Lt.-Col. E. A. Devitt, B.E.M., V.D., and Mrs. Devitt who have spent the last five days in the city guests of Capt. and Mrs. H. R. Robinson at their Manor Road home, left Victoria this morning for Vancouver, from where they will entrain for their home in Ottawa.

Col. Devitt, who is honorary secretary-treasurer of the R.C.A.C. Association, made frequent visits to Victoria on behalf of the Department of Munitions and Supply.

A surprise shower was held by Mrs. Robert Hurst, 1126 Finlayson Avenue, and Miss Muriel Battye, Thursday evening for bride-elect, Miss Ruth Battye. Gifts were contained in a decorated blue and white basket, and the honor guest was also presented with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. Invited were Mesdames W. Battye, N. P. Brietebach, W. J. Knott, W. Jensen, E. Webber, Frances, H. Grey, Thorburn, Monaghan, G. Howard, Goudall, J. E. Beales, Wilson and Misses Pearl Crocker and Alice Maloan.

Miss Nellie Styan left Victoria Thursday en route for Halifax where she will sail aboard the Aquitania for England as an exchange teacher. Miss Styan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Styan, Keating, V.I., is making her second trip to the British Isles in an exchange group. In 1934-35 she taught in Glasgow, and this year will be at Hitchin, Herts, England. Miss Styan has been teaching at Tillicum School here. Another former Tillicum School teacher, Miss Averil Muirhead, is already in England and will teach at Ilford, Essex. Miss Peggy Bell, who has been with the pre-primary group here, will spend the year in London.

Miss Freda Natrass, whose marriage to Mr. John Moran will take place this month, was honored at a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Frances James at her home, 1374 Richardson Street, Thursday night. The bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses and her gifts were contained in a decorated clothes basket. Guests were: Mesdames D. Collis, S. Colebank, W. Luney Jr., M. Justice, A. E. James and F. Natrass, and Misses J. Lawrence, D. Brethour, Shirley Gunn, S. Philimore, V. Bales and Mavis Natrass. Mrs. Natrass presided at the urns. Miss Gunn gave several vocal solos during the evening.

Mrs. A. T. Hunkin was hostess at her home, 522 Trutch Street, Thursday evening to honor Miss Nan Wilson, whose marriage to Mr. W. Kenneth Wardroper will take place next week. A colonial bouquet of summer flowers was presented to the honor guest, and her mother, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, received a fragrant corsage bouquet. Refreshments were served and Mrs. M. Christie and Mrs. Wilson presided at the urns. Servers were Misses Kay Firth, Helena Hunkin, Kay Paulin, Marnie Wilson and Bunty Wright. Other guests were Mesdames P. Bacon, H. O. English, W. G. H. Firth, G. H. Guy, W. H. Lowe, W. Paulin, S. H. Shaw, E. W. White, W. Wright, and Misses Kay Jaffray, Miriam Lowe, and Kitty Jaffray. Mrs. S. Hunkin, Oakland, Calif., was also among the guests.

Convenes Sorority Garden Party

MISS AUDREY JOYCE

The second annual garden party to be held under the auspices of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority in the Collinson Street gardens at the Aged Ladies' Home, will take place Saturday afternoon. Afternoon tea will be served from 3 until 5 o'clock and a stall of novelties will be featured. Mrs. R. Jameson, president of the Aged Ladies' Home committee will open the affair and Miss Audrey Joyce is general convener. All proceeds will be in aid of the institution. Following the success of last year's party, arrangements have been made to handle a capacity crowd.

I.O.D.E. Sends Much Food To Britain

Shipments of food parcels sent free by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire to Great Britain since April, 1947, according to Mrs. F. P. McCurdy, national president, amounted to more than 130,000 pounds.

These food parcels are sent to the Overseas Gift (Food) Allocations Committee of the British Food Ministry for general distribution.

All costs of ocean freight, handling and shipping expenses in Great Britain are met by the British Food Ministry. The I.O.D.E. is most grateful for their assistance in distributing nearly 6,000 I.O.D.E. gift boxes of food.

Mrs. McCurdy also stated that an additional 5,000 individual parcels of food were sent from Canada last year by parcel post to families whose names were provided by Lady Reading, president of the Women's Voluntary Services in Great Britain.

Guide Movement Aid To World Peace—President Truman

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—President Truman lauded the Girl Scout movement today as one providing a basis on which "girls of all nations can work together for international peace and understanding."

The President joined Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada and President Enrico G. Dutra of Brazil in sending messages of greetings to the opening of the 12th World Conference of Girl Scout and Girl Guide leaders. More than 100 delegates, visitors and committee members from 27 countries, headed by Lady Baden-Powell, are attending the conference which continues through Aug. 20. Lady Baden-Powell is world leader of the Girl Scouts and Girl Guides and is the widow of the founder of scouting.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King declared the scout movement was "of special significance in fostering international co-operation, helping as it does to remove barriers of race, religion, creeds and color."

"Today, as never before, too great stress cannot be laid upon character training."

The Canadian Girl Guides, the United States Girl Scouts and the Brazilian Girl Scouts are joint hostesses for the event.

Although small, Hill 60, south-east of Ypres, dominated a large expanse of country and was the scene of much fierce fighting in the First World War.

Teen-Age Fashions In Paris Feature Easy-To-Wear Styles

PARIS (AP)—Jacques Heim's fall fashions for teen-agers accentuate casual easy-to-wear clothes for the junior miss.

With a keen eye on what the "grown-ups" are favoring this season, Jacques Heim has designed clothes without exaggerating hip or bust contours.

His show was a complete education in French courtship, taking the audience through the perambulations of a teen-ager from the dress she is wearing when she meets her beau at a cocktail party, subsequently getting engaged, and finally married.

Day dresses have fullness swept to the back with youthful Peter-Pan collars and cuffed sleeves. Waistlines travel both up and down.

An Alice blue soft wool dress had three-inch-wide horizontal bands encircling the upper hips and running into full vertical panels at the back. He uses the same movement for an evening gown or rose satin which had an off-shoulder gather collar.

Suits button high in front with basques slightly fluted.

He uses heather tweed for day wear, marine blue broadcloth and black velvet for more formal affairs.

A pretty ankle-length grey faille dinner dress came with three deep tiered flounces. Realistic-looking roses nestled in the softly draped deep-cut decolette.

A pure-white taffeta pin-dotted satin dance dress had a draped dropped hipline, which finished in two gathered-back panels caught with tiny bows. The front bodice was high, falling low at the back.

Topcoats, both brief and full-length, were roomy and belted with huge patch pockets. Most of the belts started at the natural waist level and curved to the shape of the hips, two or three inches below.

The Heim wedding gown was of ivory moire and had a 1948 draping looped from the front waist around below the knee at the back.

Lisbon Woman Gives Golden Holidays To Hungry Waifs

LISBON (Reuter)—More than 1,300 children from Europe, victims of malnutrition, now are in Portugal for a six to eight months holiday under the care of Caritas Portuguesa, a Portuguese Roman Catholic organization created in 1946 for the relief and help of child victims of the war.

This organization was founded in May, 1946, by Mrs. Fernanda Jardim, Lisbon society woman who started the work with the help of a number of friends.

"When I read in the newspapers horrible descriptions of the sufferings of children in devastated Europe, Mrs. Jardim said, 'I could not fail to compare their situation with that of my own five children who have everything they need...'

"I thought that my country could do something for these children, so I went to see the Cardinal Patriarch of Lisbon, Dom Manuel Goncalves Cerejeira and proposed a plan for the creation of the Caritas Portuguesa. His Eminence gave me his full support and I started my campaign."

"I had heard that several countries in Europe, particularly Switzerland, already had similar institutions. I got in touch with them and got the details I needed to develop my plan. I gathered a group of friends to help carry on the work, and so the organization was born."

The first children to come to Portugal under this organization arrived early in 1947. They were a group of 46 Austrians.

The children were at first placed in a holiday camp sponsored by the government, but later many families started asking to have them as guests and the idea soon became popular.

THOUSANDS WANT KIDDIES Today, thousands of Portuguese families want to receive foreign children and Caritas Portuguesa is well known throughout the country.

From modest beginnings in a small office consisting of only two rooms, it has moved to a whole floor in a fashionable quarter of Lisbon offered by the landlord free of charge.

Caritas Portuguesa is maintained by voluntary contributions and collections made in churches, offices, factories, and shops, and by government subsidies. Donations and gifts are welcomed from any country, as are children of any nationality, race or creed. The Caritas Portuguesa is linked with 17 similar organizations in other countries.

Mrs. Jardim said Caritas Portuguesa "expects to bring to Portugal some children from the Russian zone of Germany and from countries beyond the Iron Curtain."

Recently a group of 458 French children arrived and at present there are more than 1,300 foreign children scattered over Portugal as guests of Portuguese families.

One hundred German children from British and American zones will arrive shortly while between Oct. 15 and Nov. 30, the Portuguese Caritas expects to welcome several thousand children from Germany, Austria, France, Italy and Hungary as well as Polish children from Germany.

Wildcatters' Wives Really Get Around

TORONTO (CP)—When you're the wife of a "rough-neck," you really get around.

Mrs. Fred Sowerby, Mrs. Don Bishop and Mrs. Gerald Gingras, wives of three of the dozen oil wildcatters that have set up a derrick on the Canadian National Exhibition grounds here, have lived in most of the important western fields.

The address read like a directory of the important fields: Turner Valley, Nordegg, Leduc, Legal, Let Bridge, Provost, Coult, Bow Island, Taber, Vauxhall.

Although the drillers—and their wives—expect to find no oil at the C.N.E., it's a holiday they're enjoying.

Housewife Gets B.A. After 38 Years Study

CHENEY, Wash. (AP)—After attending Eastern Washington College "off and on" for 38 years, Mrs. Katherine Kohl Burgess received her bachelor of arts degree in education here today.

She started at the old Cheney Normal School in 1910, but her quest for a degree was interrupted by four "spells of schoolteaching" and the duties of raising a family.

Mrs. Burgess says she will now go out for her master's degree.

REGISTRATION OF VENDORS

Pursuant to THE SOCIAL SECURITY & MUNICIPAL AID TAX

All vendors who have not already made application for registration under the Act are asked to co-operate with the Government and register immediately in order to be sure that their applications for registration may be processed and their registration certificates issued before September 1st.

This call for co-operation is made because after that date the Commissioner, under the provisions of the Act, has no alternative but to enforce these provisions which make it an offence against the Act to make any retail sales unless the vendor making such sales is in possession of a registration certificate.

Over 35,000 applications for registration have been sent out, but returns to the Government are by no means complete. To those who have applied, registration certificates have been sent. All those vendors who have not completed and filed their applications for registration under the Act with THE COMMISSIONER, SOCIAL SECURITY AND MUNICIPAL AID TAX, VICTORIA, B.C., are requested to do so immediately to ensure that they will receive their registration certificate and the tax return forms necessary for the remittance of the tax collected before 1st September, 1948.

To clarify certain misunderstandings, the Government wishes to point out:

Whenever medicaments are sold on a repeat basis on the authority of an original prescription, they also are exempt from tax.

Coal, wood and fuel oil are exempt as they are already subject to taxation under other Statutes. Electricity and manufactured gas, however, not being taxed under any other Statute, are subject to tax under this Act.

All purchases made by the Province of British Columbia are subject to tax, including those purchases which are exempt from the Dominion Sales Tax.

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

U.S. Wheat Selling Below Government's Theoretical Floor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite generally increasing prices, wheat is selling today below the government's theoretical "floor" in most parts of the United States. Efforts to hold up the price have bogged down under the weight of heavy sales and lack of storage room.

Recent support efforts have included increases in scheduled exports for September, an official statement that the crop year's export goal will be raised above original intentions, and a campaign by the agriculture department to get producers to hold wheat on farms.

But the price of wheat continues below the "support level." The government supports wheat mainly through a loan, based on 90 per cent of parity. Loans on various terminals now are in effect.

Prices of wheat Thursday compared with the government loan for the grade of wheat on which the price is quoted were:

| Terminal | Price | Loan |
|-------------|---------|---------|
| Chicago | $2.21½ | $2.28 |
| Kansas City | $2.14 | $2.18½ |
| Minneapolis | $2.18½ | $2.24½ |

Major cause for the slump of wheat below the loan, grain men said, appeared to be inability to obtain storage room. To get the loan, wheat must be stored to meet government specifications. With storage space filled, some wheat has had to be dumped on the market.

RECALL LAST BIG DROP

Government officials have asserted the support program was needed to assure the farmers there would be no price collapse similar to that following the First World War. Because of this, farmers have been encouraged to produce record crops at a time when the world most needed them, of officials have stated.

Meanwhile, President Truman held out little hope for a drop in the general cost of living as he prepared to act on the Republican anti-inflation bill.

The expectations in Washington was that Truman would sign the credit-curbing bill passed at the special session of Congress which refused to give him the price-wage controls and rationing authority he asked.

City Plans $40,000 Advance Grant To Jubilee Hospital

The city believes it can assist Royal Jubilee Hospital in its financial difficulties without further straining its own precarious financial position.

At a meeting of the City Council in committee Thursday, the hospital's request for a $40,000 grant towards $100,000 required for payment of accumulated bills, was argued for nearly two hours. Outcome was passage of the following resolution:

"That subject to the approval of the city solicitor from the legal standpoint, the City of Victoria advance $40,000 to Royal Jubilee Hospital for immediate payment and for application on account of any City of Victoria financial responsibility to the hospital for the year 1949."

It was explained that when the province's Hospital Insurance

Act comes into effect at the start of next year, the senior government will relieve the municipalities of part of the financial load they now carry in connection with hospitals.

STILL MUST PAY

But the municipalities still will be required to pay 70 cents per patient per day for any one hospital within their district.

D. A. Macdonald, comptroller-treasurer, estimated on patient figures for the first six months of this year, that the city's financial responsibility for Royal Jubilee Hospital next year will amount to approximately $40,000. It was decided then that if under the laws, it can be done, the city will forward that $40,000 now.

Instead of paying the 70 cents per patient per day, the city has been paying a flat $55,000 annually which Mr. Macdonald said amounts almost exactly to $1 a day.

"That may be all very well, but we are paying even more than that," he continued, explaining that extra grants have been made to the hospital.

At the beginning of 1947 an extra $40,000 was turned over, which, with the $55,000, made the total payment to the hospital for the year $95,000.

$1.69 PER PATIENT

This, he revealed later, amounted to payment of approximately $1.69 per patient per day while the city was only required to pay 70 cents per patient per day.

At the end of last year the hospital was given a $30,000 advance on this year's grant which, with the $55,000 basic grant, makes the 1948 total grant from the city, $85,000. This, Mr. Macdonald estimated, will amount to almost $1.69 per patient per day.

It was on this information that council members first balked at making another $40,000 grant. They felt the city was paying far more than its share, that the provincial government and other municipalities should pay more than they are paying.

Ald. Harold M. Diggon, as city representative on the hospital board, pleaded for further consideration of the matter.

He was aware of the difficult position of the city, but it would be the citizens who would suffer if Jubilee Hospital was forced by lack of funds to reduce operations.

For two centuries the paintings of the famous Dutch painter Jan Vermeer were sold under the names of other more popular painters.

Grizzled Veterans Of '98 Swap Yarns At Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—The stately halls of a dignified downtown hotel resounded Thursday and today to the laughter of a group of young-looking oldsters.

They milled around the lobby, looking at names on convention ribbons and finding through the wrinkled flesh and altered form familiar friends of 50 years ago.

They hail from west coast points from Alaska to California, and are meeting here at the International Sourdough convention and reunion, sponsored by the Vancouver Yukoners' Association.

They came by steamship, automobile, plane, bus and train to swap yarns with cronies who pursued the wildest rumors of their day to Canada's richest gold field.

VARIED FORTUNES

For some of them, the Klondike trail of '98 brought fortune; for others, a heart-breaking battle against loneliness and hardship; for many, death. To all it gave a store of unforgettable memories.

"Their story will never die," said Klondike Kate, a fabulous Queen of the Northland. Now Mrs. E. L. Van Duren, she is set to make a last trip north to settle the affairs of her first husband, who died two years ago at his mining claim, refusing to leave the north.

Robert W. Service, poet laureate of the gold rush, is here after a 7,000-mile trip from Monte Carlo. With him is Arthur Buel, also a Yukon literary figure, who cartooned for the Dawson Nugget from 1898 to 1905.

SSprightly, 70-year-old Aaron Levy recalls how he used to drive stages down the famous Dye Trail at the age of 19. He now lives in Alameda, Calif.

IN NORTH TILL 1920

F. Howard Pearce and Mrs. Bella Brannen travelled from Honolulu for the meeting. Pearce "went outside" in 1920.

"Vancouver and Honolulu have their advantages," he said. "But the Yukon—that's where we spent the best years we ever had."

Dr. W. E. Thompson, oldest living graduate of the McGill School of Medicine, met a host of friends made during 30 years of practice with the R.C.M.P. He now lives in California.

One of the fortunate miners who followed the magic lure is E. G. Sherer of Klamath Falls, Ore. He discovered a pay streak

U.S. Forces On Guard In Many Places At This Moment

By ROBERT N. COOL
Though President Truman recently declared that the chances for world peace are excellent, the armed forces of the United States stand guard throughout the world.

Compared with the mighty deployments of wartime their present strength is not impressive, but many observers believe that it is the actual and potential power of the United States—represented abroad by comparatively small military units and skeleton facilities—which prevents large-scale aggression.

SOVIET COMPLAINT

The Soviet Union, regarded as the only possible antagonist in a major war, frequently has complained about the armed "imperialism" of the United States. American troops, ships, airfields and military equipment are to be found facing Russian expansion on every hand.

The Chinese government, warring with scant success against Chinese Communist armies, is powered by U.S. supplies.

Far across the map, European nations within the sphere of the European Recovery Plan are waiting to find out whether they, too, are to be armed by America. Greece and Turkey already have been so equipped.

These weapons in the hands of possible allies represent the skirmish lines of the "cold war." It long has been accepted in the relationships between nations that supplying weapons does not constitute a breach of peace when there isn't a war on. Such weapons are considered to be for defence.

Behind them stand the warships, planes, guns and soldiery of the potentially hostile powers.

SOVIET ALLIES

In the present situation the Soviet Union is operating on interior lines. Its "allies," except for the more nebulous forces of international Communism, are grouped on her immediate frontiers.

The United States, however, like England in the 19th century, is geographically isolated and possessed of the biggest navy. It has wide-ranging interests, plenty of money.

Its outposts are spread all over the world. Should war come, United States strategy would be to keep the fighting overseas while striking at the enemy from bases on his doorstep.

The accompanying map shows where the United States has airfields, bases, troops and ships. Many of these installations and forces represent obligations left over from the last war. American personnel in Germany and Japan, for instance, are engaged in occupation duties. A large U.S. airfield at Mellaha, Tripoli, recently was re-activated. It is used as a way station on air-supply routes between the United States and Germany and Saudi Arabia.

USE WAR II BASES

In any war, of course, other bases built during World War II would again be used by the United States. Brazil, where Americans built bases in the last war, is closely linked in hemisphere defence agreements. The status of wartime bases in Greenland and Iceland has been the subject of negotiation. Should war ever come they would almost certainly be used again.

When a group of U.S. B-29 superfortresses arrived in Britain on a visit during the height of the Berlin crisis the world saw how quickly the map of strategic force can be changed in an air age.

Most authorities attribute America's dominant world military position to something which is not shown on this map. That is the possession of the atomic bomb.

Three years ago the first experimental atomic blast went off, under conditions of the greatest secrecy, a few miles west of Carrizozo, New Mexico. Soon the second and third atomic bombs shriveled Japanese resistance and astonished the entire world.

AID TO PEACE

Though the nations have not found a way to control the atoms a threat to civilization, they recognize its grim significance. Some believe that the "awfulness" of atomic war is going to help preserve peace.

Currently the United States alone is equipped to wage such a war, but last winter President Truman's Air Policy Commission warned that the United States could not assume immunity from "a possible atomic attack on this country" after Jan. 1, 1953.

Gold Recovered From Bath Water And Clothes Of Mint Employees

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Once upon a time a bookkeeper at the United States Mint here had a sour stomach.

This bookkeeper was doing something-or-other quite legitimate in the gold vault one night. He belched four times, very fast and hard. The next thing he knew, an armed guard with a riot gun came sprinting in. The noise had set off a delicate sound alarm.

"It's just my stomach," the bookkeeper said.

The guard thought that one over a moment, wheeled and made for the door. Then he turned and stared distrustfully at the bookkeeper's stomach.

"Keep an eye on it," he warned.

Moses Smith, who runs the mint and who tells the story of the bookkeeper, has to "keep an eye" on $5,750,000 worth of gold.

FIVE-STORY VAULT

The stuff is stored in a five-story vault. Employees don't even have a chance to get rich accidentally. At intervals their work clothes are burned and processed to recover the gold dust. Bath water used by the men at the end of the day, is also processed. One year the mint recovered $80,000 worth of gold from bath water, sweepings and clothing.

Men in the Denver Mint can punch out 750,000 pennies in eight hours, slightly less than that in the way of four-bit pieces and quarters and the rest.

Superintendent Smith said that every time a batch of coins goes through the puncher, or down the inspection belt, the whole lot is weighed. "We don't have to count them to find if one's missing," Smith said. "We have the finest scales in the world."

You learn some odd and useless things in the cream-and-grey corridors and workrooms of the mint.

For instance:
1. A quarter of a million dollars' worth of pennies is about six feet high and a dozen feet square.
2. The men who work up to their elbows in 50-cent pieces, five days a week, make no more than $8 or $10 a day.
3. More than $158,000,000 worth of gold ingots can be stacked in a cage five feet square and 10 feet high.

4. A coin that's been around may lose 13 per cent of its weight before coming back to the mint for new heads and tails.

5. A million dollars' worth of platinum can be tidily hidden beneath a double bed.

ODEON THEATRE

A Catholic priest from Montreal, a young Scot with a passion for explosives, a lovely Belgian girl anxious to forget her past, a genial adventurer with no country to call his own, an elderly Jew rescued from a concentration camp, a patriot who volunteered for his country's sake to turn traitor; these are six of the motley characters brought together in one of the strangest and least-known enterprises of the war.

Sabotage was their job; sabotage organized from London in the form of macabre practical jokes as ingenious as they were injurious to the enemy, and that is the setting for "Against the Wind," new act-on-drama from Michael Balcon's Ealing Studios, currently at the Odeon Theatre.

YORK THEATRE

Probably the most expensive chorus line in movie history backs up Betty Grable and Dan Dailey in the elaborate "You Do" number for "Mother Wore Tights," Lamar Trotti's Technicolor production for 20th Century-Fox, which is now at the York Theatre.

In the early part of the story, Betty herself is just one of the chorus girls, and because of this her expensive pink tights are duplicated exactly by the dozen chorines who make up the line in the Schneider Theatre sequence.

ATLAS THEATRE

Believe it or not — Spencer Tracy "outdresses" Adolphe Menjou in Frank Capra's "State of the Union," filmization of the Pulitzer Prize play, which is now being shown at the Atlas Theatre.

Menjou, long hailed as one of the nation's best-dressed men, wears 11 different suits in his role as the harried political boss. But Tracy as the idealistic presidential candidate beats him—his wardrobe boasts 14 changes!

OAK BAY THEATRE

Cary Grant and Alexis Smith were, in all probability, the last of many picture stars to appear professionally in the world famous Busch Gardens at Pasadena, Calif.

The two stars had to make special scenes for Warners' "Night and Day," the Cole Porter Technicolor musical film now the the Oak Bay Theatre,

New English Comedy Showing At Royal

"While the Sun Shines," the greatest English comedy since "Quiet Week-End," is showing at the Royal Theatre today, featuring Ronald Howard, son of the famous British actor, Leslie Howard, lost in a plane crash during the war.

"While the Sun Shines" is a story of London—that incredible city where the unexpected is always liable to happen. It is the story of young people who chance to meet there in rather unusual circumstances and with surprising results to themselves. Ronald Howard plays the part of Lord Harpenden who, in spite of his title and wealth, is unable to rise above the rank of ordinary seaman. Then there is a typist, Lady Elizabeth Randall, whose inability to make up her mind threatens to ruin the peace of mind of every man she meets. One of these is Monsieur Colbert

—a voluble little Frenchman with ideas about love. Finally there is that enchanting character—the Duke of Ayr and Sterling—whose views on horses and morality lead him into perpetual trouble.

Besides Ronald Howard, the cast includes Barbara White and Cyril Maude.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Gloria De Haven is back—in the best role of her meteoric screen career.

Her role opposite Mickey Rooney in "Summer Holiday," M-G-M's musical drama now showing at the Capitol Theatre, marks her return to acting after a temporary retirement during which she became the mother of Kathleen Payne, daughter of Gloria's actor-husband, John Payne.

Miss De Haven's new role blends her talents of actress and songstress. She is seen as Muriel McComber, high school sweetheart of Rooney.

Lack Of Funds Slows Hospital Conversion

Conversion of the Strathcona Wing at Royal Jubilee Hospital into a modern ward for child patients will not be completed this year because of lack of funds.

This was reported today by Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, hospital superintendent, who said a campaign for $40,000 to complete the work has fallen short of its objective by $12,000, and although subscriptions still will be welcome, active canvassing will be stopped.

Dr. Anderson said hospital workmen will be employed on the project which means the ward will not be finished by the fall. Had the full amount been received, the conversion would have been completed by then.

The superintendent said there was a general apathy shown toward the campaign for $40,000 because many people have an idea that the government will give the hospitals all the money they require.

He said the hospital has not been notified of any help from the federal government in the work. But the provincial government promised to pay one-third of the cost. Public subscriptions total $14,225.

1948 Salmon Pack At 499,330 Cases

British Columbia's 1948 salmon pack at last week-end was just short of the half-million case mark and well ahead of the 1947 and 1946 packs at corresponding dates but slightly behind the pack of 1945.

Statistics released today by the chief supervisor of fisheries in Vancouver showed the pack to last week-end at 499,330 48-pound cases.

The sockeye fishing has proved about average to date with 196,198 cases being canned, compared with 245,480 cases at the same date last year.

To date the small packs of springs, steelheads and bluebacks are ahead of packs to corresponding dates during the past six years. The coho pack, at 59,378 cases at last week-end, is also the best during the last six years.

Pinks packed to date total 152,752 cases, a pack exceeded during the last six years only by that of 1943. The chum pack, at 59,336 cases, is ahead of last year but short of the 73,231 cases canned to the same date of 1945.

Victorian Promoted

Commissioned Bos'n Frederick H. Moist, 166 Medina Street, is included in a list of promotions of Royal Canadian Navy (Reserve) personnel announced by Naval Service Headquarters at Ottawa today.

Mr. Moist, a member of H.M. C.S. Malahat, is promoted to his present rank from that of bos'n.

Miss P. J. Duncan, Dies

Miss Patricia Josephine Duncan, telephone supervisor, died Wednesday in St. Joseph's Hospital, aged 44.

A long-time associate with the B.C. Telephone Company, Miss Duncan was a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America. Born in Victoria, she also was an active member of the Metropolitan Church and a member of its choir.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Josephine Duncan, 1409 May Street; a sister, Anne, in Seattle, and a brother, W. S. Duncan, Victoria.

Funeral service will be held in Hayward's Funeral Chapel Saturday at 1.30 with Dr. A. S. Tuttle officiating. Cremation will follow.

Dominion Soccer Group Seeks To Interest Youth

TORONTO (CP)—The Dominion Football Association decided the 1949 soccer final will be played in Calgary in late August at a harmonious annual meeting Thursday in which all officers were re-elected.

The next annual meeting also was scheduled for Calgary to coincide with the final.

Officials said revenue from this year's final in which Montreal Carsteels beat Vancouver St. Andrews for the cup in three games was disappointing. The net was $4,000 they reported.

A motion to allow unlimited substitutions in Dominion Cup play was badly defeated and the present rule of three alternates—and once a man is substituted he cannot return—was endorsed.

Jack Hendry, British Columbia delegate, was named co-ordinator of junior and juvenile soccer. The plan is to get the youngsters interested in the game and stage a Dominion junior final. Each council member will name a representative from his province to act with Hendry.

The Dominion body elected a five-man commission and a secretary to rule Ontario soccer. The commission is similar to one in British Columbia and will have complete jurisdiction over the game in Ontario.

Demaret, Ransom Putt Poorly But Still Score 67s

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Better control of their putters was the problem today for dapper Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., and handsome Henry Ransom, Ravinia, Ill., as they went into the second round of the $13,500 St. Paul Open.

Erring putts that wouldn't drop cost each of them a possible lead at the end of yesterday opening round. They were five under par with 67s for a one-stroke lead over Ky Lafson, St. Andrews, Ill.; Otto Griner, Baltimore, Md., and Bill Nary, Phoenix, Ariz.

Ransom had the most trouble with his putter, although both had to three-putt several greens. That triple-stroke business forced him one over par figures on two of the incoming nine holes. Accomplishments that boosted him into the tie with Demaret were four birdies counted on the same nine.

Demaret didn't have as many birdies as Ransom, who scored seven in all, but on the other side of the ledger he didn't go over par on any hole. He missed several short putts—notably a two-footer on the 18th hole, a five-footer on the 17th and a five-footer on the 12th.

Knotted at 69 were Bob Fretland, Duluth, Minn.; Dutch Harrison, Albuquerque, N.M.; Johnny Bulla, Phoenix, Ariz.; Al Smith, Winston Salem, N.C.; Pat Wilcox, Waterloo, Ia., and Ellsworth Vines, Iowa City, Ia.

Lloyd Mangrum, pre-meet favorite, carded a 70.

Bobby Locke Fires 69 At Kenora Course

KENORA, Ont. (CP)—Playing smooth, effortless golf over what he termed a "real sporty course," Bobby Locke, the celebrated South African, clipped a stroke from par yesterday to card a 69.

Vancouver's stocky Stan Leonard, touring with Locke, found the going more difficult, winding up with 74 strokes.

Larry Johnson, Kenora amateur, and Jack Vernon, local professional, toured the course in 72 and 77, respectively.

Ruth Better As Baseball Fans Give Encouragement

NEW YORK (AP)—Babe Ruth's condition remained improved today, and baseball fans throughout the world were rooting for him.

The latest hospital bulletin said that his condition remained unchanged, after he rallied yesterday morning.

The home-run king still was on the critical list, but his wife, Claire, told reporters: "He's feeling better."

Ruth, the idol of two generations of baseball fans, has been in the hospital since June. He has been sick for the last two years, but his condition suddenly became worse Wednesday morning after he contracted a cold.

His physician said the cold developed pulmonary complications.

Yesterday morning, outside the Memorial Hospital Centre for cancer and allied diseases, a host of friends, young and old, clustered under cloudy skies waiting for word about Ruth.

A former classmate of Ruth's at St. Mary's parochial school in Baltimore wrote to ask permission to pray for the stricken baseball hero. Then he said: "We are no longer in the same league but unfortunately I turned down the wrong street and am now behind the eight-ball."

The letter came from the Trenton, N.J., state prison where the writer is a life-terminer.

The exact nature of Ruth's illness has never been disclosed.

Patroy In Smashing Win To Establish Track Mark

VANCOUVER (CP)—Patroy, four-year-old chestnut gelding, blazed out of Exhibition Park's backstretch Thursday to capture the measured seventh race by six lengths and set a new track record for six furlongs.

Hardboot Charley Athey took the Double E. Stable mount off the early pace, moved as he left the backstretch and steadily drew away from the pack as he rounded the turn for home. Moose Jaw lasted for place honors with Muchkin a driving third.

Patroy went the sprint in 1:12 5/8 sheering three-fifths of a second off the record held jointly by Malinka and Camp Guide. The gelding paid $33.60, $6.80 and $3.

It was the eighth day of the 28-day summer meet. Burma Pete and Gold Pebble combined for a small $16.15 daily double and, in the last heat, Meander In and Galand Chief clicked for a $37.50 one-two.

Jockeys Sid Martin and Marvin Moncrief led the riding parade with two winners each.

Contract Awarded To Build First Half Of V.H.S. Memorial Stadium

McGee And Molly's 'Waxy' Visits City

A street address like 79 Wistful Vista isn't easy to forget in the first place . . . and when you've had 14 years of fun there with a slightly zany but enjoyable couple, a three-month holiday won't make you do it either.

So finds Harlow Wilcox, the smooth-voiced "Waxy" of the Fibber McGee and Molly radio show, who has been visiting Victoria and Vancouver Island during a holiday tour with his wife.

Mr. Wilcox, McGee and Molly, who are Marion and Jim Jordan in real life, have been together on the show for 14 years, and Mr. Wilcox sounds quite happy over the lengthy association.

Fibber, he says, in reality is pretty much the same sort of person he sounds on the radio. "Both Marion and Jim are very real, down-to-earth family people."

A start on construction of Victoria High School's Memorial Stadium will be made within the next few weeks, it was learned today in an announcement made jointly by H. L. Smith, school principal; Laurie Wallace, general chairman of the stadium project, and D. E. Smith, who is in charge of construction.

The announcement followed awarding of a contract to Luney Bros. and Hamilton Ltd., to build the first section of what eventually will be a two-part stand. Contract price was quoted as being $7,563.

"We hope that while we are going ahead with this first unit, our fund will continue to grow so that we will be able to make a start on the second as soon as the first is completed," Mr. Wallace pointed out.

The first unit will seat 560 persons and the second 540, giving the stadium a total accommodation for 1,100. Both units will be of reinforced concrete.

It was intimated the first unit would be completed by November. The architectural firm of Birley, Wade & Stockill will supervise the work.

2 Cars In Accident Impounded In City

Friday the 13th proved to be an unlucky day for John V. Donaldson, 2441 Willows Road, and James Wickens, Suite 32, 800 Topas Avenue. Their cars were ordered impounded when they collided at Kings Road and Rose Street at 8.05 this morning after city police found neither had insurance coverage for accidents.

Small traffic fines in Saanich police court Thursday aggregated $70. Four persons paid $15 each for going over 30 miles an hour or exceeding the speed limit in restricted zones.

Judge Classifies Sale Of Home As Loan Transaction

Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane in Supreme Court rendered judgment in favor of Earle C. Heal who maintained in his action against David M. McCall that the house he sold to the defendant was merely security on a $5,000 loan.

The judge upheld the house owner's claim that he sold his house to the tenant for $5,000 with an option to buy it back in six months with interest. His Lordship classified the transaction as a loan and not a sale.

According to the evidence reviewed by the judge, Heal, the owner, approached McCall, the tenant, to "sell" the house for $5,000, subject to a condition that McCall give him the right to repurchase it in six months for the $5,000, plus a bonus of $500.

Living Cost Nears Point Where B.C. Must Pay $900,000

The rise during June and the prospect of further rises in the official cost of living index is causing concern among members of the provincial government.

Under a verbal agreement with the B.C. Provincial Government Employees' Association, made last year, the government agreed to increase wages of its thousands of employees by 10 per cent for each 12½-point rise in the official cost of living index.

The next wage boost is therefore nearing for the provincial civil servants as the cost of living index nears the 162.5-point mark. At July 2 it officially stood at 156.9. Each cost of living bonus payment by the provincial government to its employees means the expenditure of another $900,000 annually.

Furthermore, with the additions to the provincial government service necessary to administer the sales tax and the hospital insurance scheme the annual cost of the bonuses to the government is increasing because there are more persons entitled to the raise.

Removal of the embargo on cattle shipments to the U.S. and recent increases in the cost of eggs all point to a further increase in the cost of living index when statistics are compiled for July and August.

Board Prepares For Television

The Board of Industrial Relations is all prepared for the introduction of television and facsimile broadcasting into British Columbia.

In an order published today providing for minimum wage and working conditions for radio-broadcast technicians, the board has described a radio-broadcast technician in the following manner, which it would seem, will take care of the future development of the industry for some time.

Here is the definition: "... for the purposes of this order the expression 'radio-broadcast technician' means any employee engaged in the installation, operation, or maintenance of radio-broadcast equipment, including television, voice and facsimile, or any rebroadcast apparatus by means of which electricity is applied in the transmission or transference, production, or reproduction of voice and sound, including records, transcriptions, wire or tape recording, and vision, with or without etherial aid, including the cutting or processing or both the cutting and processing, of records and transcriptions."

To Discuss New Plan For Saanich Roads

Monthly meeting of Saanich Ward 4 ratepayers Monday night at 8 in Marigold Hall will hear details for a plan which it is claimed will reduce the cost to ratepayers by 50 per cent for a road improvement project in the municipality. Members will discuss the plan before it is submitted to Saanich council. This is said to be an alternative plan to the $500,000 money by-law for roads turned down by the voters last month.

F. Campbell Williams, a native of Vancouver Island and a U.B.C. graduate, received his Ph.D. degree at the State University of Iowa during commencement day ceremonies. His field of study at Iowa was chemical engineering, the topic of his doctorate thesis being "Separation of Fatty Acids by Extraction Methods." Williams, who received his B.A.Sc. degree at U.B.C. in 1943 and obtained his Master's degree in the same faculty in 1946, will be remembered as one of B.C.'s outstanding track and field stars.

Friday 13 Luckiest Day For Police Inspector Bob Owens

... His lucky day.

Friday the 13th holds no fear for Inspector Robert Owens of the B.C. Provincial Police. The Belfast-born Irishman grinned cheerfully when asked today if the number 13 spelled ill-luck for him.

"Everything of importance which has happened to me has occurred on the 13th," he said. "The number follows me around wherever I go."

1949 Assessment Notices To City Property Owners In Mail Today

City property owners will know Saturday what their improvements and lands are assessed at for 1949, but an overall picture will not be drawn until the middle of next month.

Aug. 15 is set as the deadline for assessment notices to be sent out and City Assessor H. G. Allan said 16,000 will be mailed today.

"But we cannot give the total figures until a great deal more paper work is done," he said.

It is understood generally that assessments will be higher. In this regard, a citizen suggested to Mayor Percy George in a letter today that upward revision of assessments of commercial or profit-making property should be carried out to relieve home owners of possible substantial increases next year in taxes.

Many letters have been received by the mayor since his warning earlier in the week that a six or seven mill increase in the tax rate is possible next year.

He issued the warning following announcement of an increase in his file. "In 1916 I left Halifax for overseas in May, Friday 13," he said, "I was warned of being drafted to France on the 13th and sailed for the European battlefield on the 13th."

On Aug. 13, 1918, Inspector Owens said he was transferred from the artillery to the First Division of Mounted Police.

When he fell sick in France, the inspector was transported in an ambulance numbered 13, driven by Bud Fisher of Sooke.

"I could mention hundreds of other examples," said the inspector. "For instance in 1936, my entry in a horsemanship was 113. In one event the mare placed 13 and won five other events."

The inspector related that when he visited the Black Hawk night club in Chicago a few years ago, his hat and coat check was No. 13. He also went to see a picture and got row D, seat 13.

His driver's license has always been No. 13.

When the King and Queen visited Victoria in 1939, he said he was given a pass to government house numbered 13.

"Call the day what you want," he said cheerfully, "I think it's an Irishman's lucky day."

wage award to city policemen by a board of arbitration.

Similar increases to other civic employees may be made, which, together with soaring costs in all branches of civic administration, might boost the 4½ mill rate to over 50 mills.

BOOSTS IN ORDER

The citizen, like others, says increases to the police and City Hall employees "doubtless are in order from the point of view of the recipients."

"But what about the hundreds of small home owners?" he asks. "They are the ones out of whom the increases are (in part) to be gouged."

He then suggests higher assessment of commercial property rather than higher taxes for small home owners, many of whom have fixed incomes.

Few letters and complaints against a possible increase in the mill rate next year give any suggestion as to a solution of the city's financial problem.

But most agree payment of increases in wages to civic employees are warranted.

Work-Week Reduced By 4 Hours For Amusement Industry Of B.C.

The Board of Industrial Relations, in an order published today, has reduced from 48 to 44 the weekly work-week of persons employed in the amusement industry of the province.

At the same time the board, in an order which repeals the previous order, has extended the coverage of the order and increased the minimum wage from the current $16.80 per week to $18.

The order adds to the phases of the industry now covered by the minimum wage order parking lots, auto camps, shoe shine establishments and boat livery. It previously had applied to theatres, dance halls, shooting galleries, bowling alleys, billiard parlors and pool rooms, ice rinks, roller rinks, golf courses, swimming pools, bathing pavilions and veterinary hospitals, and others.

The order will take effect Sept. 13.

In other orders also published today the board has reduced from six to four months the learning period for female office occupations. During the first two months the employee must be paid $14 per week, for the second learning period of two months the minimum pay is fixed at $16. Employees in the sheet-metal trade are brought under provisions of the minimum wage law.

in another order. It fixed their pay at $1 an hour and their work week at 44 hours.

Also brought under the provisions of the minimum wage law are technicians working in radio stations. The minimum wage for them is fixed at 80 cents an hour.

To accommodate the long-distance hauling trade the 44-hour week provisions have been canceled but the worker is protected by increasing the provisions for overtime. For work in excess of 8½ hours in a day a driver, swamper or helper must be paid one and a half times his regular pay. For work in excess of 11 hours in one day his pay is double the regular rate.

This order does not apply to vehicles of less than 1,000 pounds factory capacity or to vehicles used in retail milk, bread, laundry, cleaning, dyeing and mail delivery service.

Saanich Court Hears Neighbors' Quarrel

A Gordon Head camp neighbors' quarrel which came in for attention by A. I. Thomas, J.P., Thursday in Saanich police court resulted in two women being bound over for a period to keep the peace.

Meet After Half Century

Cy Munro, 809 Burdett Avenue, was today talking about "the good old days," when he and J. S. Shaver, from Trail, got together in the Y.M.C.A. this morning after not having seen one another for 54 years.

Born and raised in Iroquois, Ontario, a small town about 200 miles from Toronto, the two men were last together in 1894. Despite the long gap between their meeting, though, Mr. Munro was able to recognize his boyhood companion.

"Knew him the minute he came through the door," Mr. Munro said. "It's been a long time, but I knew him."

would have been at a loss if he had had to pick his friend out in a crowd.

Mr. Shaver, who has resided in Trail for the past 27 years, learned Mr. Munro was living in Victoria two years ago. "This year I thought I would come to the coast for a holiday. When I got here yesterday I looked Cy up in the directory, telephoned him and arranged to meet him this morning."

"He was sitting there smiling when I came through the door," Mr. Shaver said as he nodded to Mr. Munro.

As an inquiring reporter left the scene the two were recalling a time both had broken their arms.

Sells Valuable Business Property To Insurance Co.

The Douglas Street property between Fort and View Streets and extended back on View to include the Royal Dairy has been sold to the Prudential Insurance Company of America by Zeller's (B.C.) Ltd., chain store, it was learned.

Zeller's Ltd. acquired the property last spring in two separate transactions for a total of $390,000.

The company intends to lease most of the property back from the new owners, it was reported, but has taken no step yet to build a store in Victoria. The firm is known to be establishing a branch in Vancouver.

40 Teachers For Local Schools Need Of Housing

There will be 40 new teachers, most of them experienced, in Greater Victoria schools when the 1948-49 fall term opens in September.

School board officials said today 30 of them will be replacing instructors who have retired or moved to other districts. The other 10 have been employed to take care of an increase in school population.

J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools, said the majority of new teachers are being brought here from outside points, and a problem in housing accommodation is being experienced.

"We have gone to a great deal of trouble obtaining good teachers, but an even greater problem is in finding housing accommodation," he said.

Many of the newcomers require room and board. A few married men with families need houses or suites to rent.

Mr. English is appealing to boarding-house operators and landlords with accommodation available to contact the offices of the school board.

Few Meteors Seen In Annual Display

The annual shower of Perseid meteors which has had Victorians looking toward the northeastern sky for the last two evenings was "rather disappointing" this year, in the words of Dr. A. McKellar of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory on Little Saanich Mountain.

"It's just like the weather," the astronomer said, "it's just a chance as to whether or not the show will be good. If the point of intersection of the earth's orbit and that of the meteors occurs where there is a knot of the tiny particles, you can see anywhere up to about 50 'shooting stars' an hour."

Each summer, in the earth's cycle around the sun, it passes through the orbit of the Perseid meteors, thousands of which are caught annually in the earth's atmosphere.

Wednesday night, comparatively few of the meteors, which range in size from small stones to sand-like grains, were observed. Thursday, the sky was obscured by clouds.

Would Have Mayor Act As Matrimonial Agent

Many and varied are requests made of Mayor Percy George, but one from a 43-year-old woman in England received by him today "takes the cake."

She would like the mayor to open a matrimonial agency. Stating she once lived in Saanich but moved to England in 1922, the woman asks Mayor George to assist her in moving back to Vancouver Island.

"I must go back to people who are understanding, human and kind," she says in her letter.

She would like to meet a lonely Canadian or English widower who would consider marriage. She would take a post as a housekeeper at first.

The woman states she is plumpish but not unattractive, is an excellent cook and would prefer to live on a small farm. She would pay her fare from England.

A second letter received by the mayor today asks that a small, heated apartment be found for a middle-aged Ontario couple who desire a "more congenial climate" than they now have.

A 30-day license suspension and a $35 fine were imposed against Carl Neilson when he was found guilty by A. I. Thomas, J.P., in Saanich police court Thursday. The car he was driving went off the road into a field for 111 feet and wound up on its side at the bottom of an eight-foot embankment when accused said he sought to avoid a collision with another car on Piedmont Avenue Monday.

Today Was Not So Unlucky For People In City Police Court

Two persons who appeared before Deputy Magistrate P. J. Sinnott this morning found that "Friday the 13th" wasn't as unlucky as it has been painted.

William Nuttal, whose car on Aug. 10, slammed into a boulevard tree on Pandora Avenue at Rebecca Street to cause about $300 damage to the vehicle, pleaded guilty to dangerous driving. But he put up a good plea for no suspension on the grounds his car was his only means to make a living. The deputy magistrate imposed a fine of $20 and did not suspend.

Theresa Hartnell said she did not see the sign at Fernwood Road and Grant Street which told of Grant being a prohibited parking area. Tree foliage, she said, blotted out some of the sign which probably accounted for her not seeing it. Mr. Sinnott dismissed the charge.

Fred Smith entered a plea of guilty to soliciting business for a sight-seeing company more than six feet from an authorized stand. He was fined $15.

City officials are endeavoring to locate A. V. Seggelen for whom a letter was received at City Hall today written in Dutch from Dorpsstraat 65 B, Warmond, Holland. Sender of the letter is G. T. or G. F. Seggelen who has information concerning sickness in the family.

Pupils Must Attend Schools In District

J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools, said today the Greater Victoria School Board does not intend to make any exceptions to the rule that elementary school pupils must attend the school in the area where they are living.

He said many parents are requesting permission for their children to change from one school to another.

"But we cannot give this permission," he stated. "Pupils must attend the schools which serve their area."

A few exceptions are made regarding high schools. The municipal boundaries are used for high school attendance: Oak Bay students must attend Oak Bay High School, Saanich students must attend the high schools in that municipality.

To change the rule, students must obtain a permit from the school board beforehand.

At the beginning of the new school term, principals will check to see that they have no pupils from other municipalities. If they have, the students will be sent to the proper school.

Lucky 13 Say Some People But Others Say—Be On Your Guard

By HUMPHREY DAVY

Today is Friday the 13th—and according to the superstitious, the day spells ill-luck for many unwary citizens.

So, those of you, and there are many, who fear the mystic symbol 13 and believe Friday to be an unlucky day, watch your step today.

There are step ladders to be avoided and black cats to be shunned. If you are traveling be careful you don't take berth 13. Avoid hotel rooms numbered 13. Be careful to avoid a dinner party in which there are 13 guests.

According to the advice of mystics wear a four-leaf clover or hang a horseshoe over your bed-room. Be sure not to forget your rabbit's foot if you are stepping out tonight.

OR STAY IN BED

If you should feel the forces of evil are too strong for you to ward off then follow the advice of a high authority on the subject—stay in bed.

For today, according to ancient superstitions found in nearly all civilized countries, the gremlins and the forces of evil are at work to undo you. Their success will depend entirely on your behavior and the care you take to avoid pitfalls.

The skeptics may scoff at your superstitions. But for moral support you can show that some of the greatest men feared Friday the 13th as a child fears the dark. The event is said to be unlucky because of the combination of Friday and 13. It's like mixing two potent chemical solutions. Anything can happen.

The superstition may have originated among the Norsemen. With them, Friday was sacred to the Goddess Freya, the northern Venus, after whom it was named. It was considered unlucky to do any work on that day.

The Moslems held Friday to be a very lucky day. It is connected with the birth, death and resurrection of their Messiah.

Christians who believe in the superstition connect Friday the 13th with the crucifixion. But it is hard to find out from them why it is unlucky. According to Christian teachings the world was saved by the sacrifice of the Messiah. Reason and logic do not seem to appear in the picture.

Turning back the pages of history, one sees the superstition growing in popularity after Leonardo de Vinci had painted his great picture of the Last Supper.

The picture depicts 12 apostles arranged six on each side of the fated 13th, the doomed Messiah, who occupies the centre of the table. Undoubtedly, the picture which was copied and reproduced throughout the centuries, must have helped to spread the superstition.

Pope Gregory the Great appears to have been perturbed by the growth of the superstition and made an effort to curb it. He was unsuccessful.

HOTELS SHUN 13

Many people in Canada and the United States hold Friday the 13th to be unlucky and take all sorts of precautions to avoid being harmed. Some hotels have no 13th floor. The No. 13 is often not applied to any room.

In Germany and France the day is held with honor by many. In these countries the fateful number is not only ignored at hotels but wherever it would occur in the natural order of rotation.

The superstition is so great among both literate and men of letters that men are sometimes employed to constitute a needed 14th at a party or reception. Napoleon, Bismarck, Victor Hugo and Charles Stuart Parnell, were all superstitious of Friday 13th.

WAGNER'S LUCKY DAY

Richard Wagner held it to be his lucky day. There are 13 letters to his name. He was born in 1813. Add 1, 8, 1 and 3 and the total will be 13. He composed 13 operas. His greatest opera Tannhauser was finished on Sept. 13, 1860, which he performed for the first time on March 13. He died on March 13. Christopher Columbus sailed for the New World on Friday, June 13, 1492. The major events on his trip occurred on the 13th. Thirteen British Colonies revolted against their Mother Country and later became the United States of America. Was that unlucky. That depends on your point of view.

The growth of the superstition at one time or another perturbed many people. The first club to counteract the superstition was formed in London, Eng., in 1889. It was the 13th club. Similar clubs have been formed in the United States.

The clubs have met with some degrees of success, but there are still many who hold the day with reverence. There's one man, however, who you don't have to bother and ask if he considers Friday 13th unlucky. He is the Swede. For him, it's the luckiest day of the year.

Vancouver Firm Awarded Contract

CAMPBELL RIVER — Armoc Drainage and Metal Products Ltd., of Vancouver, was awarded a contract for the supply and delivery of four, six and eight-inch steel pipe for the new water system to be installed in this east coast town.

The water system will require 11 miles of pipe. The contract will also take in the number of hydrants necessary for the protection of the village.

A. G. Graham of Victoria, director of the regional planning division of the Department of Municipal Affairs, was a visitor to Campbell River and discussed town planning with the commissioners and village clerk.

Parallel Parking Found Satisfactory

LADYSMITH—City Council at a meeting here was informed that parallel parking introduced as a safety measure on the east side of a portion of the First Avenue business section was proving satisfactory.

The council also asked the city clerk to request the Transport Department at Victoria to make an investigation with regard to radio interference in the district.

Alberni Mill To Reopen Monday

PORT ALBERNI—The Alberni Pacific Lumber Co. Ltd., mill will resume operations Monday after two weeks' shutdown for annual holidays and repairs, it was announced by company officials here.

Variety Of Articles Made By Hobbyists To Be Seen At Show

Hand-made articles of every description will be on exhibit at the handicraft show Tuesday and Wednesday of next week in the Crystal Garden.

Under the sponsorship of the B.C. Indian Arts and Welfare Society, the show will feature a large collection of work done by local craftsmen as well as work done by professionals and native B.C. Indians.

"We have canvassed for weeks in search of skilled craftworkers and their products," a spokesman for the committee in charge of the event said. "The result is surprising. On the numerous stalls will be found remarkable examples of all kinds of hobbies which are carried on in family basements, back-kitchens and in tiny home workshops.

"Everything shown will have passed the exacting test of a high standard examination, thus guaranteeing an exhibition of first-rate material," it was promised. To be seen on the various stalls will be:

An exhibit of pressed flower pictures, a showing of "character" dolls, leatherwork, unfired painted pottery, exquisitely-wrought ecclesiastical embroideries, an exhibit of carved, life-size birds, and a display of model airplanes.

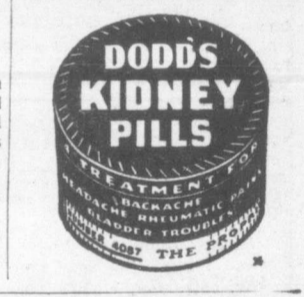

Demonstrations to be given throughout the show include the making of hooked rugs, Batik dying, handweaving and spinning, glove making, metalwork and woodwork.

Doors to the show will be opened Tuesday from 6 p.m., with the formal opening by Education Minister W. T. Strathairn for 8. The show will be open all day Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The DOCTOR Says:

CONSTANT FEAR OF DISEASES IS AS BAD AS ILLNESS ITSELF

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Some people make themselves miserable worrying about catching diseases. This is particularly true of some of those who read a good deal about various diseases. Physicians are not exempt from this kind of worry; one famous physician-scientist remarked that while studying medicine he imagined he had everything he read about except housemaid's knee! There is a lot of difference between being afraid of getting every disease in the medical books and knowing that such disease exist. Avoidance of careless exposure to disease is good. Also it is good to recognize serious symptoms early so that the disease responsible can get prompt treatment. Constant fear and worry about getting sick, however, does not accomplish anything worthwhile.

One should not forget that

From Mount Rainier comes this very sad ditty, where our ad man's weather is sure a pity. Now last year it rained all during his vacation—which he spent up somewhere near Calcium station. So this year he said I'm gonna get away early—take my time while the sky is pearly—I'm not gonna wait til the end of Aug.—when there's nothing but rain and sleet and fog.

If you are in a fog about all these August Furniture Sales, come on down here where the Furniture Bargains abound. All year—Fr'instance a really big three-piece davenport suite in floral velour for $198.00

So this year smack on the last day of July—he pulled up stakes and got out shoe-fly. Headed south where he knew the sun would shine, to sit by a mountain lake and cast his line.

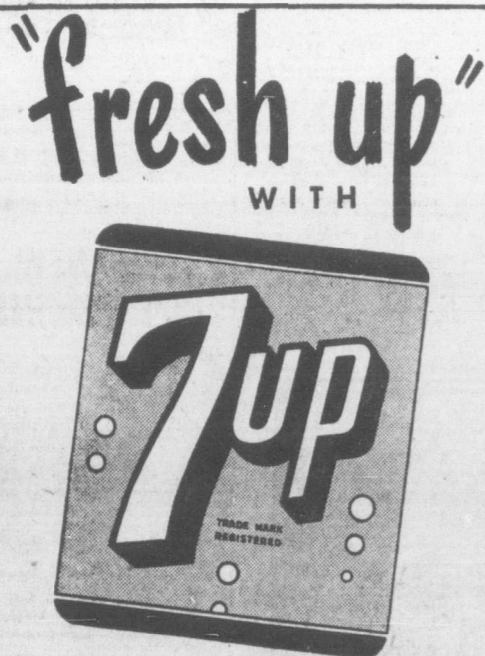

We're not stringing you a line when we say this bedroom suite is the best "all year round" bargain in town at $119.00.

So to show no matter how well you figure and lay a plan—you just can't outfigure the weatherman. We hereby sadly tell you the tale—of the latest communique from our wandering mail. "Quote" Dear Slaves—MT. RAINIER—it surely was given the right name. The mist is so thick we nearly 'mist' Paradise Inn and smacked into a drizzly bear. We're all sitting about in the lodge soaked to the skin, while Trudie is buying out the souvenir counter. We now have a papoose, with a yellow feather in her hair and a squaw in a dirty blanket, a key ring and a teepee and a totem pole. Next summer I'm gonna take my holidays in the winter. "Unquote."

Quoting you this bad weather price of $55.00 on these armless lounges with bedding boxes ought to make our ad man smile like he says we're always doing with furniture we are giving away with.

They'll Do It Every Time

nature is a great healer. Most people who become sick, even with serious conditions, recover entirely. Others who fall ill progress to a stage where the disease from which they suffered has been conquered even though some bad effects may remain. Still others may even suffer serious effects such as the loss of a limb from disease or injury and yet be able to resume reasonably active and useful lives.

Another thing people should remember about the many diseases and injuries which may afflict mankind is, even though people could get a great many diseases they never do. The chances are that the average person will encounter only a few of the serious conditions described in the books.

The constant fear that one might catch plague, cholera, yellow fever, tuberculosis, or what-not is far worse than the actual danger to which we are exposed. The people who are always anxious are worse off than those who use reasonable precautions and then take their chances without undue worry. The worrier becomes what is known as a neurotic. The proper point of view to take is to use reasonable caution without constant anxiety.

Question: What causes a burning sensation in the mouth after eating? It makes no difference what the food is.
Answer: This is difficult to explain but the cause might be some particular sensitiveness of the mucus membrane inside the mouth. Also there could be some infection or disease of the gum or tongue.

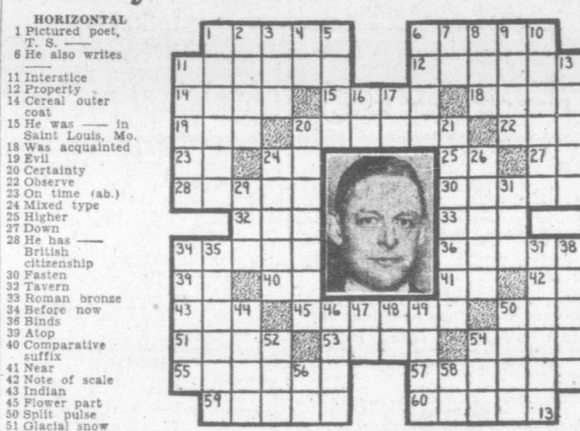

Cut Down Old Ship To Navigate Canal

HAMILTON (CP)—The United States aircraft carrier Sable, formerly the Greater Buffalo, one of the best known Great Lakes passenger ships, will have more than 25 feet trimmed from her hull before she can navigate the Welland Canal, bound for a Hamilton scrap heap.

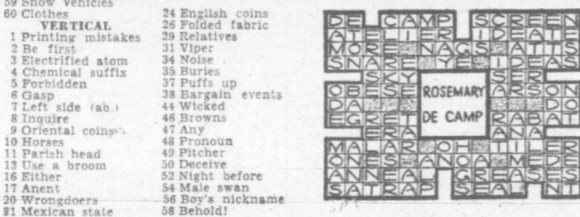

The Sable, which left Chicago Saturday towed by two tugs, will be the widest ship ever to pass through the canal. With a beam of 106 feet, she will have to be chopped up when she arrives at port Colborne to navigate the 80-foot wide Canal. Sections of the hull trimmed off will be stowed in her holds. The operation will take about a month.

During the recent war the Sable was used on the Great Lakes to train U.S. naval air cadets.

Do you know these signs of wasteful tire wear?

ANSWERS:
(a) Excessive wear in centre of tread, caused by over-inflation.
(b) Scalloped appearance, caused by tire being out of balance, and possibly by faulty brakes.
(c) Feathered edges, caused by faulty alignment.

These conditions mean wasteful tire wear. They can also lead to blowouts and defective steering. Let us show you how low-cost precision adjustment can keep your car safe at all times. We will gladly tell you in advance what your car needs and what the cost will be. Drive in soon.

MORE VITAL THAN LOVE

We make love the most important thing in marriage, but a more vital factor is respect, for even love itself cannot endure unless it is founded on respect. No man can spend a lifetime gazing enraptured on a living creature. In fact, he can get mighty tired of looking at it if it is nothing but a pretty parlor ornament and there is nothing behind it of strength or intelligence or worth, no quality that stands up under the wear and tear of life and holds his admiration.

THIRDS GONE

The husband who was so picturesque and romantic and quoted poetry so beautifully no longer thrills the wife who was to support him, and who wishes to heaven she had married a businessman instead of a great lover.

So when youths and maidens go a-courting, they should steel themselves against the appeal of glamor girls and boys and scrap their romantic fancies, and when they begin to get that away about Sally or Jim, say to themselves: "Has this gal, or this lad, got the qualities that I respect? Could I depend upon Sally standing by me in time of trouble and fighting it out with me, shoulder to shoulder? Could I trust her as I trust God? Has Jim got the in-

RESPECT

When men and women are picking out their life mates, there is one quality that they seem to completely ignore, and that is respect. A man will marry a girl because she has a pretty face or a good figure or cute ways, or because he likes to dance with her, without apparently giving a single thought as to whether she has any characteristics that command his respect.

Women are even less choosy matrimonial shoppers, for they marry philanderers and drunkards and ne'er-do-wells and weaklings just because they pity them, although they know that they will be broken reeds that they can never lean on, or look to for support.

Perhaps this total ignoring of the most essential factor in marriage is the explanation of why there are so many disgruntled husbands and wives, and why so many marriages are failures. For beauty fades and youth passes and playful kittens turn into old cats with claws, and if a girl has nothing but a few surface charms her husband is bound to feel, when these are gone, that he has made a poor matrimonial bargain.

Nor does the girl who marries a man because she is sorry for him, or because she thinks she has a mission to reform him, fare any better. Pity is too close to contempt to be a satisfying emotion. The most compassionate of women gets tired of weeping over a derelict. She wants a husband she can look up to, not down upon. When a wife realizes that her husband cannot hold his own among other men, she has drunk her cup of bitter tea to its dregs.

MORE VITAL THAN LOVE

THURSTON CAME CLOSE TO SMASHING PRESIDENT'S WATCH

An amusing event in the life of Howard Thurston was part of a performance he gave at the White House while Calvin Coolidge was president.

The magic trick was to be "smashing the president's watch and putting it together again." If a watch really is "smashed," even a great magician could not restore it. Before the performance, Thurston obtained an imitation of the watch which President Coolidge was known to carry.

The president lent his watch, and the magician said: "Now, let it be plainly seen that I do not touch the watch."

An assistant placed the watch on a table in front of Thurston. Up went the hammer in the magician's right hand, but before it was brought down, someone caught his arm. It was his assistant, and he whispered: "You've got the wrong watch!" had failed to replace the president's watch with the imitation. By a hair's breadth, the good watch had been saved!

The whisper had been too loud, and had been heard by those who were watching. It was time for them to laugh at the magician's expense, but he was quick to see the way out.

"Jay says I have the wrong watch," he explained. "Is that your watch, Mr. President?"

Coolidge lifted the watch from the table and looked at it carefully. Then he nodded as a sign that it was his own watch. From that point, the trick was performed correctly—a watch was smashed with the hammer, and the pieces were wrapped in paper. The bundle vanished, and then a loaf of bread was given to Mrs. Coolidge. When she cut the loaf in two, the President's watch was found inside!

I asked Thurston whether he thought that the president had been alarmed.

"No," he replied. "I don't think so. He was too smart to suppose that I would really break his watch—but only a split second kept me from doing so." (For General Interest section of your scrapbook.)

Sleepiest Session In 4 Years

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market leaned ahead Friday in one of the sleepiest sessions of the last four years.

Price increases ranged to more than a point while losses for the most part were fractional.

Wall Street offered a variety of reasons for the market's come, including Berlin negotiations, recently imposed credit controls and the political outlook.

Silver Price Down

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York price for silver dropped 1 1/2 cents an ounce today. Handy & Harman, leading bullion dealers, quoted the metal at 72 1/2 cents.

It was the first change in silver quotations since Nov. 3, 1947, when the price was raised to 74 1/2 cents. The last previous decline in the quotation was posted Sept. 2, 1947.

Steels, Foods Dip Fractions

TORONTO (CP)—Industrials weakened in light trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Golds, base metals and western oils moved sluggishly in narrow range and were steady.

Steels and foods dipped down on fractional losses in the industrial groupings. Papers showed a slightly weaker tone and utilities steadied after a weak opening. Brown pfd., Powell River, Bell Telephone, Massey-Harris, Canadian Car A, Weston's and B.A. Oil were among the losers.

Home Oil, Davies Petroleum, British Dominion Oil, Roxana and Atlantic Oil were better western oils while Anglo-Canadian Consolidated Homestead, Okalta and Pacific Petroleum eased down.

Toronto Closing Index:

20 Industrials 176.64, off .26
20 Golds 84.87, off .49
10 Base Metals 96.35, up .18
15 Western Oils 38.07, up .22
Total sales, 443,000.

London Market

LONDON (Reuters)—Trading on London Stock Exchange was almost at a standstill today, but some slight interest was displayed in British government stocks which moved higher by 1-1/8 per cent. In the industrial section, tobacco shares showed occasional dullness following the announcement that supplies of tobacco to retailers would be cut.

South African mining shares eased and small losses were shown on the day.
